By authority of the Board of Directors of the New York Railway Company, and in conformity with the terms of the act of incorporation in that respect, the undersigned Commissioners on Stock Subscriptions give public notice for and on behalf of the directors, and of such company, that books of subscription for the capital stock thereof will be opened on Wednesday, the 28th day of June inst., at the following places in this city, viz.:—
At the banking house of Duncan, Sherman & Co., No. 11 Nassau street.
At the banking house of the Bank of the Metropolis, No. 13 Union square.
The Company is authorized to construct two Viaduct Railways or branches through the city of New York, on the east and west sides thereof, from a common starting point at or near Chambers street, between Broadway and Chatham street: also across the Harlem river and through Westchester county; with power to build additional lines of railway or branches from time to time, in any part of the city or Westchester county. The property acquired by the Company is exempted from taxes and assessments during the period allowed for the final completion of the railway in the city. The Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of New York are authorized and directed, with the approval of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, to subscribe for five millions of dollars of the stock of the company whenever one million of dollars thereof has been subscribed for by private parties. This conditional amount of stock has been wholly subscribed for and taken by the directors of the company. On the completion of either of the lines of railway to the line of Westchester county the Supervisors of that county are authorized to issue the bonds of the county to such amount as the Supervisors shall deem expedient, to aid in the construction and extension of the railway in and through that county. For the proper equalization of the interest of shareholders who may subscribe and pay in moneys at different times the directors are authorized to issue scrip for interest on such payments, payable out of the earnings.
The terms of subscription will be as follows:—
Ten per cent of the amount of stock subscribed for to be paid in cash at the time of subscription. The residue to be paid as called for by the Board of Directors on a notice of thirty days, but no call at any one time to exceed ten per cent.
Scrip for interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum will be issued by the company payable out of the first earnings of the railway on all instalments paid on stock subscribed for within thirty days after the subscription books shall be opened.
The company reserves the right to close the subscription books at any time after the 29th day of July, 1871.
By order of the Board of Directors.
ALEXANDER T. STEWART,
JOHN JACOB ASTOR,
LEVI P. MORTON,
Commissioners on Behalf of the Company.

CRUSHED BY AN AWNING.

Reckless Driving.

Robert Henne, a German, forty-one years of age, died in the Centre Street Hospital from the effects of injuries received on Monday last. Mr. Henne, who lived in Greenville, N. J., and did business in this city, was passing under the awning in front of premises 79 Chatham street, when Robert Hutchinson, a Long Island farmer, in driving his team rapidly and recklessly ahead of a rail car, ran against the awning posts with so much force as to knock them down. The awning unfortunately fell on the head of Mr. Henne, fracturing his skull and instantly reducing him to insensibility, from which he never rallied. The Fourth precinct police arrested Hutchinson for reckless driving, who was taken before Justice Hogan at the Tombs and subsequently released on bail to await the result of Mr. Henne's injuries.

Coroner Keenan, being notified, took the testimony of Mrs. Henne, and gave a certificate, so that the remains could be carried to New Jersey for interment. Deceased left a widow and twelve children. An inquest will be held in the case on Saturday, and in the meantime the bondsman of Mr. Hutchinson will be notified to have him present at the investigation.

A NEW LIQUOR LAW IN CONNECTICUT.

All the Old Maine Laws Thrown in the Shade.

An act in addition to an act entitled "An act relating to taverns and spirituous liquors," was passed in the Senate on the 18th inst., without debate or dissent.

The bill provides that purchasers of liquors may never pay for them, or, if they do pay, may recover back their money, it having been paid "without consideration, and against law and equity;" and the wife, husband, parent, children, guardian or employer of the person purchasing may recover the money of the liquor merchant. And all the contracts, sales, transfers, grants, mortgages, pledges, attachments, liens or other security in consideration of the sale of liquor shall be null and void.

Leases, verbal or written, of shops or buildings shall imply that the tenant shall not sell liquors; and in case the lessor is knowing to the fact that liquor is sold on the premises, he or she shall be deemed to be concerned in the traffic and a party to every illegal sale—a forced partnership and contract of a novel character in a well-regulated government of freemen.

Any person getting boozy (under the influence of liquor) twice in twelve months shall be lawfully "a drunkard." To sell to a drunkard a penalty of $100 and imprisonment a month is provided.

If a drunkard does any damage the person who has sold him liquor and the person who has leased premises to the liquor dealer are held responsible for it all.

If a husband abuses wife or children the liquor dealer or lessor shall pay all the damage, and if any liquor drinker shall become a pauper the same parties shall pay all the bills and support his family too.

The selectmen or three taxpayers of any town may prosecute any liquor dealer who shall be required by the Court to disclose, and he shall be held for contempt, fined, imprisoned, &c., and if the dealer refuse to disclose, it shall be taken pro confesso, and judgment shall be rendered accordingly.

The last section opens the State Treasury to costs in favor of those who prosecute.

SUB SILENTIO—The Maryland Democratic State Convention on the new departure.

THE ROCHESTER Democrat says that the famous order No. 57 "was written a year ago." Is not that setting it a little too far back?

HENRY WARD BEECHER has come to the rescue of the principles of law and order. In the Christian Union this week he takes a bold stand. The whole question of the riot of the Twelfth in its religious, moral and political aspect is just opening.

THE POLICE BOARD has distributed ten thousand dollars of the Fund for Wounded Policemen among the members of the force injured in the late riot. This fund was established shortly after the bloody days of July, 1863, and it serves a very handsome purpose just now; but if there had been no such fund the people of the city would have seen to it that the services of the policemen on that day should not pass unrewarded.

THE WHOLE SPANISH MINISTRY has resigned. But the crisis will probably be of a short duration. The parties hitherto hostile to the government observe a conciliatory attitude, and, to judge from the cable news that King Amadeus is consulting with the leaders of the different parties, we infer that the new Cabinet will include, if possible, a member of each, and thus take away all further causes of contention. The growing popularity of King Amadeus, adds our despatch, will help to smooth the road toward a satisfactory settlement of the difficulty.

EARTHQUAKES are becoming most unpleasantly frequent in our neighborhood. Here is a serious one in New England—one about which there is no vague uncertainty, no whispered intimations that it is but the wind or the car rolling o'er the stony streets. This New England sample of an earthquake asserted itself by rocking buildings, ringing bells, rattling windows, knocking down plastering and making a deep, rumbling noise from Maine to New Hampshire. What sort of terrible commotion is threatening us when staid and decorous New England goes through such an unseemly shaking up as this?

A. H. STEPHENS, having gained nine pounds since he became editor of the Atlanta Sun, the Louisville Courier-Journal fears that when he weighed himself last he had one of his editorials in his pocket. This reminds us of a little story. Before the war a party of gentlemen were being entertained by the hospitable host of "Liberty Hall," Mr. Stephens' residence in Georgia, when the conversation turned upon the ex-Congressman's weight. Mr. Stephens said he then weighed ninety pounds. "Ninety pounds!" exclaimed a guest, "is that all?" "Oh," returned little Aleck, with manifest pride, "I have weighed a hundred!"

PRESIDENT GRANT is eminently a peripatetic President. He does not believe in the Mikado barbarism that would keep the Chief Magistrate forever secluded from the gaze of the people, thus encouraging him to grow rusty in ideas and run to old Bourbonic notions. From Long Branch the President made a trip to Dutchess county recently, viewing the beautiful country seats there, inspecting fine imported cattle, and making himself generally social and neighborly. On his return he stopped at Poughkeepsie long enough to review a gallant regiment of our National Guard from Brooklyn, and thus gave the patriotic young men composing it a pleasant token of encouragement that they will doubtless long cherish. After this he returned to his cottage by the sea at Long Branch.

Irish-Americans on the Late Riot—The Political Reaction and the Dangers which They Do Not Seem to Comprehend.

Our Irish-American journals and many of our Irish-born citizens are boiling over with indignation in reference to the course of Governor Hoffman and the conduct of the National Guard and the police, in the protection of the late Orange procession, to the extremity of breaking heads and shooting bullets. On Wednesday evening last at Brevoort Hall, for instance, an indignation meeting of Irish-American citizens was held, for the purpose of protesting against the line of action adopted by the Governor, &c. The leading orator of the occasion, starting from the warlike inquiry, "How can we avenge the blood of the men which has been shed?" and following it with such questions as this, "Shall Orangemen and Know Nothingism rule this city?" proceeded to say that "women had been made widows and children orphans for the caprice of one man in Albany," that "Governor Hoffman should never again receive the votes of Irishmen," and so on. The orator having concluded his remarks, a series of resolutions were adopted, among which was one declaring "that we hold Governor Hoffman responsible for all the blood shed by his murderous militia on that day," and "that we will keep him in memory should he come forward to look for our suffrage for any office."

That this feeling of hostility to the Governor among our Irish Catholic population widely prevails cannot be doubted; for within the last few days, at various points in this city and Brooklyn, they have been hanging him in effigy as a dead man, "a traitor," "a Dutchman" and "an Orangeman." Our Irish-American journals, fired with the same spirit, extend their wrath to all the defenders of our patriotic Governor in this business, including the HERALD, with all the other journals advocating the maintenance of the law, American liberty and constitutional rights. In all these proceedings of our Irish adopted citizens there is manifestly a purpose to carry the delicate and dangerous question involved into our party politics; and it is upon this perilous business that we would speak a word or two to the parties concerned touching the political reaction which they would invite and the political dangers which they do not seem to comprehend.

We stand by the constitution and the laws of our country. We maintain the equal rights of all men, of all races and all creeds, under the law—the rights of the white man, the red man and the black man; the rights of the Catholic and the Protestant, of the Ribbonman and the Orangeman. We contend, notwithstanding all the melancholy killing and maiming of men, women and children on the 12th of July, that in the action of the Governor, the local authorities, the military and the police on that dreadful day the rights of all men under our laws were vindicated, including the rights of the Irish Catholics, as well as those of the Irish Orangemen, and that this vindication of equal rights and fair play being in value beyond any price that can be paid for it, was cheaply maintained against combinations of rioters on the 12th of July, who were out in defiance of the law, and in defiance, too, of the express instructions and warnings of Archbishop McCloskey and his clergy from all the Catholic churches. We refer to those instructions and warnings given out on the Sunday which ushered in the week marked by the insane attempt of lawless rioters to override the supreme law of the land and the authorities of the city and the State.

The Catholic Church and all good Catholics stand unspotted before the world in reference to this riot. Had the wholesome and seasonable advice of the Catholic Church been followed in this matter there would have been no riot and no bloodshed. Had the constitutional authority of the Governor, embodied in his proclamation, been regarded by all parties under the protection of our equal laws there would have been no riot. The responsibilities and the bloody consequences of the riot rest upon those insane and lawless men who, in defiance of all law, human and divine, took the law into their own hands. If these guilty men, therefore, and their abettors, undertake the the game of vengeance in party politics they may enlarge this little breeze of a politico-religious excitement into a roaring whirlwind. Nothing more disastrous to the democratic party or to the Catholic Church in the United States could be devised than an extensive political movement of Irishmen aiming at "vengeance" against the Governor and officials concerned in the maintenance of the law on the 12th of July.

There are in the United States, of all sects and outside parties, some thirty-four millions of Protestants, against some five or six millions of Roman Catholics. The mass of the Catholics are democrats, and it is the Irish Catholic vote of this city which has given Tammany Hall and the democracy the possession of this city and State. Let it be understood, then, that we have in this city an organization of Irish democrats whose main object is to reverse the decision of the last 12th of July in our streets in reference to Orangemen's rights, and we shall soon have similar organizations in all our large cities and towns, the very existence of which will enable the republicans to sweep New York, city and State, and the whole country. Indeed, we suspect that the conflict of jurisdiction and opinion on this subject among our constituted authorities has settled the business for the Empire State in November. In any event, no scheme could be devised more advantageous to the republicans, or more disastrous to the democratic party and the Catholic Church, than an Irish Catholic agitation in support of the utterly defenceless course of our late rioters, and for "vengeance" against the upholders of American law and liberty.

It will be observed that the journals of the leading Protestant Churches and the Protestant clergy have actively entered into the discussion of this late riot, its causes and consequences, as bringing out into bold relief the intolerance and despotic designs of the Irish Catholics and the Catholic Church in this free country. Of course the injustice of such sweeping assumptions is at once apparent to every dispassionate mind; but in times of high religious or political excitement passion rules the hour, and justice must stand aside till the storm rolls by. The Know Nothing epidemic was made up of intolerance, prejudice, injustice and madness, and yet it raged through all the country for several years, broke up and demoralized the political parties of the day, and eventually resulted in a new organization of parties, though it left nothing but a bad name behind it. Yet still the elements of Know Nothingism exist over all the land, and the late events in Rome have served to quicken the vigilance and distrust here on the part of our Protestant sects against the Pope and Mother Church. At the same time, "the high-reaching Buckinghams" of Tammany Hall, in connection with the Irish Catholic vote of this great city, have operated to intensify this Protestant hostility to the Catholic Church and the democratic party throughout the country. We submit, then, that the only course of wisdom on the part of the heads of the Catholic Church and the leaders of the democratic party is to see to it at once that there shall be no Irish political organization formed to agitate the reversal of the decision for law and order involved in the enforcement of Governor Hoffman's proclamation of equal rights.

Of all things to be avoided in this country by the Catholic Church is a political quarrel with the Protestant Churches; of all things to be avoided by the democratic party is a religious agitation with the republicans. Both these dangers are now threatened by these foolish Irish-Americans seeking "vengeance" against the enforcement of our laws. We call upon the Catholic clergy and the democratic sachems of this city to look into this matter, for to the Church and to the party it is a matter of life or death.

The Canadians and the American Coasting Trade.

It appears that parties on the northern, northeastern and northwestern frontiers of the United States are largely engaged in violating the laws regulating the navigation and coasting trade of this country. Iron ore from American ports, for instance, is transported to points on the Canadian side for the purpose of reshipment, in violation of section twenty of the act of Congress of July 20, 1866, which prohibits the lading of goods, wares or merchandise upon any vessel belonging, wholly or in part, to a subject or subjects of a foreign country, to be taken thence to a foreign port or to be reshipped to the United States on the frontiers. Ore so shipped has been seized at Erie recently, and it is said other shipments have been made that are liable to seizure. It is believed at Washington that parties violate the law intentionally, and that it has been the practice to do so for some years past.

It will always be difficult to prevent violation of the navigation and coasting trade laws, as well as smuggling, along such an extended line as that between the United States and the British American possessions. In fact, it will be almost impossible, and to prevent this even partially would require a little army of office-holders and involve great cost to the government. Treaties may be made with England of the most liberal character to regulate the trade between this country and the bordering colonies, and we might approach reciprocity of trade; but there must always remain difficulties as long as the people of this North American Continent are under separate governments. It will always be embarrassing. Such a political anomaly as that of two nations, of the same race and language, existing separately when their territory joins for thousands of miles, and when their trade and intercourse are so extensive cannot last long. The North American colonies ought to become a part of the United States. Our republic must extend over all North America. The aggregation of the people of the same race and language under one government is the spirit and tendency of the age; and here, where the geographical conditions are so favorable to unity, and where we are maturing model institutions for the rest of the world, it is more necessary than elsewhere that there should be no separate or different forms of government and no conflicting commercial interests. Instead of yielding to British interests or proclivities the United States ought to adopt a policy of firm but kindly pressure to bring about annexation. With annexation custom houses, trade regulations and a host of office-holders could be dispensed with. This would be the proper solution of all the border difficulties and trade restrictions between these sections of the North American Continent.

The Hanging in Effigy Folly.

A number of our Irish adopted citizens, exasperated at what they conceive to be the unfriendly conduct of Governor Hoffman on the occasion of the late riot, have exhibited their sentiments by hanging the Governor in effigy. This is a silly piece of business at best; but if they wish to make a great man of Governor Hoffman his enemies could not pursue a better course. Precedents in that direction are numerous. Washington was hung in effigy by the tories in the Revolution. Patrick Henry was not only hung in effigy, but came near being hung in earnest by the enemies of liberty. Tom Jefferson was hung in effigy before he became President of the United States, although he had written that immortal document, the Declaration of Independence. General Jackson was hung in effigy because he throttled the monster, the United States Bank. Martin Van Buren was hung in effigy because he established the Independent Treasury. Daniel Webster was hung in effigy in all parts of New England on account of his celebrated 7th of March speech, in which he pitched into the abolitionists right and left. President Lincoln was hung in effigy in the South many times before the war. And last, but not least, the patron Saint of all Ireland, good old St. Patrick, has been hung in effigy a thousand times on every 17th of March, and no harm has come of it either. Therefore, if our Irish adopted citizens, the rampageous fighting Tipperary and Kilkenny element, desire to make a great man—almost a second St. Patrick—of Governor Hoffman, let them keep on in their folly of hanging him in effigy.

THE POTTSVILLE Miners' Journal remarks that the resignation of "Big Injun" Parker as Commissioner of Indian Affairs will give satisfaction, as his course was damaging to Grant's administration. This is another case of "Lo! the poor Indian." But perhaps the descendant of the famous "Red Jacket" has plenty of wampum, and can for the future smoke his pipe of peace in peace. "Let him have peace."

An Irish Firebrand Doing Injury to Irishmen.

If a certain class of Irish orators understood the injury they are doing to their own countrymen by their violent harangues it is charity to them to believe they would desist from their wicked efforts. But we fear that most of them are demagogues so selfish that neither knowledge nor wise counsel can keep them from making the ridiculous threats in which they are indulging. Men who are drunken with a sense of their own importance are as unreasoning as the crowds which follow them, but their foolish words do injury not only to themselves, but also to those who act with them. Every Irishman in New York will be compelled to suffer for the wicked cry for vengeance which comes from these firebrands. The radical journals print their speeches with alacrity, and the whole country will hear with disgust their wicked and untruthful assertions about armed ruffians striking down innocent men and women for the crime of looking upon foolish Orangemen.

This is no time for angry threats against Governor Hoffman or ill-timed praise of Mayor Hall. Both did their duty as they understood it, and the responsibility for the riot is not with them. A few hot-headed men are alone to blame for the blood shed on the 12th of July. And it now badly becomes them to talk about their blood curdled in their souls when they saw the dead of Wednesday, because, while they might well stand aghast at it, the threats with which the words are accompanied show that they are not sorry in their hearts. Even now they want more blood, and, like the radical journals which are preaching a religious warfare, they are trying to excite one part of the people against another. These men must not forget that it was the United States which saved some of them from the penal servitude of a felon, and that it is dangerous to abuse the hospitality which was accorded them. Governor Hoffman is far above them, and Mayor Hall in no way needs their friendship. By these wicked speeches they may do injury to those whom they profess to serve, but they can harm only their friends and be of service only to their enemies. The riots are past, and the narrowness and bigotry which begot them will soon pass out of the minds of men unless fresh outrages and new indiscretions keep them alive. This is not Ireland, but America, and it the Legislature must prevent Orange processions in the future it must also ignore Ireland. Any one not blind by partisanship or reckless of honor or honesty can see this. These reckless firebrands are doing the greatest wrong to Irishmen which either Englishmen or Americans have ever attempted against Ireland. Unless they are rebuked in time fresh bloodshed may follow the bloodshed of Wednesday, and more widows and orphans may mourn because the reckless counsels of reckless agitators were heard with respect.

The Gravity and Fun of the "New Departure."

The shafts of wit and ridicule sometimes accomplish more than the soundest argument. Hence if the Southern or the Western or the Northern anti-departure press begin to "poke fun" at the new movement the "eminent gravity" of its supporters it is not unlikely will eventually be seriously disturbed.

Among the democratic papers most earnest in opposition to the measure is the Mobile Register, a journal we have been led to believe was at first inclined to think favorably of the new movement. But now it gravely declares that "a cowardly party never wins political battles, and the democratic party cannot be marshalled and inspired for victory under a time-serving banner." This is plain talk.

But while the Mobile paper discourses in this plain manner its Forest (Alabama) namesake takes the humorous side, and says it "has heard of condensed milk, potatoes, meats, &c., but condensed radicalism is the latest thing out." "It is put up," it continues, "by a few democratic editors expressly for their democratic friends who were unable to swallow the article in its crude state. It is called 'new departure.'"

Again, it is related that a Kentucky farmer being asked what he thought of the new departure replied that it appeared to him "as if some impatient democrats, seeing the radicals going to the mischief on a down grade, with the brakes off, had determined to beat them by jumping on the cow-catcher." That is not a bad idea, provided the "cow-catcher party" land ahead at the White House station.

The Louisville Ledger takes a Scriptural view of the departure by saying, "Our first parents in Paradise tried the experiment of a new departure when the tempter led them to the fatal tree, whereon grew the fruit of prohibition. In consequence death, with all our woes, was introduced." Being essentially dead now, we suppose the Ledger means to make the national democracy "deader" by belaboring it in its defunct state, as the clown in the circus does the departed coon.

But, notwithstanding all this, it is plainly to be seen that there is an undercurrent connected with this new departure which gives the radical republicans no little uneasiness, while at the same time it affords the radical democrats material for some small fun.

THE CHICAGO Republican sent a reporter to interview Judge David Davis, of Illinois, and sound him on the Presidency. The Judge accepted the interview, complimented the paper, paid fifteen cents for a week's subscription in advance, and said he would accept the nomination if tendered him with any degree of unanimity. "But," said he, "I don't want the thing stirred up in the papers so soon. That's what killed McClellan, and it will kill any man. There is no surer way to defeat a man than to put him in nomination too soon." Therefore all that has heretofore been published about Judge Davis being an aspirant for the democratic nomination has been given without that gentleman's authority. Nevertheless, his name might as well be included in the list of entries for the four-mile race over the Presidential course in 1872.

THE OFFICIAL REPORTS of the Seventh, Ninth and Eighty-fourth regiments, engaged in the quelling of the riot on the 12th inst., have been submitted to General Varian, and are published in another column of the HERALD this morning.

The Abolition of the Purchase System.

The purchase system in the British army has been abolished at last. One of the last and most important vestiges of a feudal age has become a thing of the past. The abolition of this iniquitous system has only been a question of time. The Earl of Derby, who, by the inheritance of his father's talents and influence, may be looked upon as the leader of the tories, had abandoned it. And yet, now that the event has come to pass, it has provoked most stormy manifestations in both houses of Parliament. No pen can describe the excitement in both houses, says the cable despatch, when it was announced that the government had decided to abolish the purchase of commissions in the army. The liberals were loud in their enthusiasm for the bold conduct of the Premier. The tories, baffled and beaten, were amazed and bewildered, and did not know how to face their discomfiture. Mr. Disraeli, the forlorn hope of the tory party, had either lost his customary assurance, or had thought further opposition a hopeless task, for he did not take up the gauntlet which Mr. Gladstone hurled at the opposition.

The House of Lords, ever mindful of its own class interests, set itself in determined opposition against the measure, in the teeth of public opinion, but it now finds itself swamped by public opinion. By gracefully yielding it might have avoided the bitter mortification of being overruled or ignored by the government. Direst blow of all is the abolition of the purchase system to the House of Lords, which, though less demonstrative than the Commons because of its higher sense of decorum, felt still deeper the importance of the occasion. Mr. Gladstone has astonished his friends by his bold policy. Like a resolute pioneer, he laid his axe to the root of the rotten tree and felled it with one blow to the ground.

AFFAIRS IN PORTO RICO.—The news from Porto Rico which we print to-day shows that honesty cannot prosper in the American colonies of Spain. Captain General Baldrich has shown himself the friend of the people over whom he was appointed to govern, and yet this is made the pretext for his persecution by the mean Spaniards of that island, who depend upon Spain to assist them in destroying the Creoles or West India descendants of the Spanish people. The Yzquierdo party are only seeking a pretext for murdering the natives of the island, and the volunteers who are crying "Viva Yzquierdo" make the "Segundo Cabo" the instrument of their base purposes. Spanish intolerance and dishonesty are destroying Spanish rule in the West Indies; but perhaps anarchy and degradation are better than Spanish dominion.

RACING AT LONG BRANCH.—The second summer meeting at Long Branch will commence on the first day of August and continue four days. In addition to the original announcement of three races a day, the association have decided to give a valuable cup for gentlemen riders on the third day of the meeting, and on the fourth they give a purse of three thousand dollars for four mile heats. This valuable purse will undoubtedly bring together a fine field of horses. The stables now at Monmouth Park comprise Messrs. Withers', Cottrill's, Sanford's, McGrath's, Babcock's, Bannatyne's, Parks', Weldon's, O'Donahue's, Lloyd's, Morris', Dennison & Crawford's and Littlefield's. To this list will be added to-day General Buford's, Doswell's, McDaniel's and Drane's, from Saratoga. The prospect for fine racing at the Branch never was better.

GENERAL SHERMAN has again expressed his sentiments on the Presidential question, almost as forcibly as when he wrote to us that if he were nominated he would not run and if he were unanimously elected he would not serve. This time he tells a HERALD correspondent that Grant is the man for re-election, that the country is quiet and prosperous under him, and that he ought to be and will be made Chief Magistrate for the second time. He says the Ku Klux does not amount to much down South, for if the terror that is reported among the negroes actually existed there could not have been this year a larger crop of cotton than the general average. Very sound reasoning this for Sherman on both divisions of the subject.

THE ORLEANS PRINCES, who have pledged themselves not to take their seats in the Assembly, in order to avoid political agitations, are in danger of being excluded from that body altogether. A republican member has made a motion that all those Deputies who are absentees beyond a limited time should forfeit their seats altogether. If his motion should pass the Count de Paris will find his prospects for the kingship somewhat blighted. Blighting his prospects for the crown is exactly what the proposition aims at.

KENTUCKY AND GREAT EASTERN RAILROAD.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, July 20, 1871.

About three months ago a railroad company was organized here known as the Kentucky and Great Eastern Railroad Company, with Colonel S. W. Morton, of New York, as President, A. J. Hodde as Vice President, and Generals Fremont and Banks, Judge Cutler, of Marietta, Ohio; J. M. Duke, of Marysville, Ky., and James T. Brady, of Pittsburg, Pa., as directors. This was destined to construct a railroad from Cincinnati to Catlettsburg, Ky., under a charter granted by the Kentucky Legislature last year. It now appears that this is but a small part of the company's purpose, and that their real plan is to build another railroad from Cincinnati to New York city through Kentucky, across West Virginia to a point in Virginia, thence by roads now constructing through York and Reading, Pa., to the eastern terminus. Those interested claim the new route to New York will be 120 miles shorter, by measurement, than the route by the Pennsylvania Central; and in equalizing distances by reason of curves and grades the new route will be the shortest by a little less than 200 miles. It is announced that work will be commenced in Kentucky within three months, and that the whole line will be finished in less than three years.

AN ORANGE SILVER ROBBERY.

A rather mysterious midday silverware robbery took place yesterday in Orange, N. J. The family of Mr. J. L. Smallwood, residing in Centre street, partook of lunch at the usual hour, and as it used the ordinary quantity of silverware. Lunch over, the latter was cleaned and laid in the pantry, so as to be ready for use at dinner, when the male members came home from New York in the evening. Before that time, however, discovery was made that the silver had disappeared, no one knew exactly when or how. A strict search was made and all the servants closely questioned, but no clue was elicited indicative of where the silver had gone. It transpired, however, that on the preceding day a good-looking fancy soap peddler visited the house and was treated to dinner by the girls. He was about twenty-two years of age, wore a gray coat and light pantaloons. The police of Orange and New York are on the qui vive for him.

THE PLEASURES OF THE PRESIDENT.

Our Chief Executive Visiting Dutchess County.

Spending a Day at Mr. Dinsmore's, in Staatsburg, and an Hour at Poughkeepsie—Return to Long Branch—Social Sights and Scenes Along the Route.

POUGHKEEPSIE, July 20, 1871.

U. S. Grant, President of the United States; Colonel Forney, of the Philadelphia Press; Governor Bullock, of Georgia; Charles Chamberlain, Henry Sanford, Fred Grant, Frederick Lovejoy, John Hoey and Colonel E. E. Sandford reached Staatsburg, Dutchess county, nine miles north of here, at half-past one o'clock yesterday afternoon, via the Hudson River Railroad. They were met at the station by W. B. Dinsmore, with two barouches, when they were rapidly driven to a short distance off, where a fine collation was in readiness. The hospitable host soon relieved the distinguished guests of all restraint, and for a while all enjoyed themselves heartily. After refreshments were served the inevitable cigar came to the front and then a pleasant chat was indulged in.

THE DINSMORE MANSION,

An hour later, in the cool of the afternoon, the President and his party were by Mr. Dinsmore escorted to the grounds adjoining and shown valuable for which the Staatsburg Dinsmores are noted. They are indeed splendid specimens and were greatly admired by the President.

After supper, the weater being unpropitious, the party remained indoors and spent the time in social conversation.

This morning all rose bright and early, feeling much refreshed and, being encouraged by clear weather and a bracing northwest wind, resolved upon

ANOTHER RIDE.

Mr. Dinsmore's horses and carriages were ordered up, and once more the President and friends took to the road. They first drove to the depot, where the President informed me that they would leave Staatsburg on a special train at half-past three o'clock this afternoon for New York, and arrangements were made at the station accordingly. Then fresh cigars being lighted the carriages containing the Chief Ruler of the Nation and his friends whirled away towards the Van Vliet and Paulding farms, over smooth roads and at a spanking gait.

AT EVERY TURN OF THE ROAD

the President found much to admire in Dutchess county scenery, and so expressed himself. All returned to Mr. Dinsmore's at early dinner hour, where a splendid repast was partaken of, then more cigars and then to the depot. The train was in waiting, and when the party got on board it started

FOR POUGHKEEPSIE.

Here the visitors disembarked and waited for the fast train. While at the depot they were captured by Mayor H. G. Eastman and conveyed to Eastman Park, where the President reviewed the Forty-seventh Brooklyn regiment.

After the review, which occupied about ten minutes, the party took passage on the fast train and proceeded to New York, where a special steamer was to be in readiness at Thirtieth street to convey the President to Long Branch.

During his stay at Staatsburg

THE VILLAGERS

were in ecstacies. The President expected that Collector Murphy and General Porter would join him this morning, but they failed to report. Colonel Forney left the party at Staatsburg and came to this city to enjoy an hour's chat with his friend Hudson Taylor. He rejoined them, however, at this station and proceeded with them to New York. The President's visit was purely of a social nature, therefore there is nothing unusually important to chronicle relative to his movements.

Return of the Presidential Party to Long Branch.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., July 20, 1871.

President Grant and his son Frederick, accompanied by Collector Murphy, of New York; Colonel Forney, of Philadelphia; William Fleiss, John Hoey and Charles Chamberlain, arrived here from Staatsburg this evening. The President proceeded direct to his cottage.

YACHTING.

Annual Regatta of the Crescent City Yacht Club.

NEW ORLEANS, July 20, 1871.

The annual regatta of the Crescent City Yacht Club, over the usual course, a triangle of fifteen miles, took place to-day. Six boats were entered, one of second class, two of third class and three of fourth class. No boats of the first class were in the race. The Restless won in second class—time, 2h. 19m. 30s.; Minnie Preston in third class—time, 2h. 33m. 30s.; Jessie in fourth class—time, 2h. 44m. 30s.

Yachting Notes.

The following passed through Hell Gate yesterday:—

BOUND EAST.

Yacht Jessie, Nelson, from New York for New London.

BOUND SOUTH.

Yacht Sappho, Douglas, from Glen Cove for New York.

AQUATIC.

The University Races at Springfield—Fast Time Expected—Sickness of two of the Harvard Crew.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., July 20, 1871.

The arrivals of collegians this evening have been quite numerous and the interest in the University races is increasing. The single scull race promises to be an exciting contest. Ellis Ward is the favorite and Ten Eyck is backed against Butler by metropolitan visitors.

The Harvards now complain that two of their men are sick with diarrhœa and are quite weak. They were out upon the river this afternoon, however, and pulled over the course, as also did the other crews.

It is thought that the single scull race will be quite fast, bets having been made that the two miles will be finished in fifteen minutes or better.

Norwalk vs. Bridgeport.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 20, 1871.

There has been considerable excitement among the lovers of aquatic sports to-day, owing to a race between two boats, one owned by Henry Bishop, of this place, and the other by Francis Barritt, of South Norwalk. The boats were both large sized sailboats, about twenty feet long, and the prize was a purse of $800. The course was from Seaside Park to near the Lightship, about ten miles from the starting point. A large fleet attended the racing boats from the city down to the starting point, and the harbor presented a very lively appearance. At about twelve o'clock the boats started, with the wind blowing very fresh from the northwest. The Norwalk boat kept a short distance ahead for the first few miles, but did not ride so well in the heavy sea as the Bridgeport boat, and when about six miles from the starting point, sailing before the wind, the Norwalk boat went under, shipped a heavy sea and upset. There were five or six men on board, all of whom clambered upon her keel and held on till rescued by the tug Stetson, which was steaming near with a crowd of spectators. The overturned boat was righted and towed back to Bridgeport by the Stetson, while Mr. Bishop's boat sailed over the entire course, beating back to the city in very fair time. The betting was largely in favor of the Bridgeport boat prior to the race. She wins the purse, of course.

WEATHER REPORT.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER,
WASHINGTON, July 21—1 A. M.

Synopsis for the Past Twenty-four Hours.

The barometer has risen very generally since Wednesday night from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic, but least so on the Gulf coast, where it was quite low Thursday morning, and in the Northwest, where a local depression existed. The temperature has fallen, especially at stations in the Middle and Eastern States. Brisk northwest winds prevailed for a short time on Thursday morning on the middle Atlantic, but light winds and calms are now reported from all stations. Partially cloudy and clear weather has prevailed during Thursday east of the Mississippi, excepting an area of clouds in Ohio and Indiana.

Probabilities.

Clear weather with lower temperature is probable for Friday for the Lakes, and pleasant weather with rising barometer will probably continue on the Atlantic Coast and the Gulf.

It is officially reported that 409,600,000 francs of the indemnity were received from France on the 15th inst., of which 12,000,000 were in silver, and 52,500,000 have arrived since the 15th.

SPAIN.

Resignation of the Whole Ministry—Conciliatory Conduct of the Opposition—Growing Confidence in the King.

TELEGRAM TO THE NEW YORK HERALD.

MADRID, July 20, 1871.

The Ministers assembled this afternoon for the purpose of tendering collectively their resignation to the King.

It is generally supposed that the Cortes will adjourn for a few days until the Ministerial crisis is over.

There are manifestations of growing confidence in King Amadeus on all sides.

The parties of the opposition observe a conciliatory attitude, and have expressed their willingness to support the King if he succeed in forming a popular Cabinet.

It is believed that the new Ministry will contain some radical elements as a concession to the republicans.

The King is consulting with the leaders of the different parties with a view to the formation of an entirely new Cabinet.

SWITZERLAND.

HYDROPHOBIA.

Death of Mr. McNulty—A Fatal Case in Elizabeth.

Mr. Richard McNulty, the unfortunate man who was reported in yesterday's HERALD as having been prostrated with a malignant form of hydrophobia, has since died.

In Elizabeth another frightful case is reported:—James Kane, aged seven, son of Patrick Kane, of Pearl street, died on Wednesday evening from the result of a dog bite received six weeks ago. The deceased was bitten through the foot between the middle toes. The cur, a mongrel, belongs to George McGinnis. Up to the time of dissolution the little fellow had all the attending symptoms of hydrophobia.

ENGLAND.

The Purchase System in the Army Abolished.

Enthusiasm in the House of Commons Over Mr. Gladstone's Announcement.

BITTER MORTIFICATION OF THE TORIES.

A Heavy Blow to the House of Lords.

TELEGRAM TO THE NEW YORK HERALD.

LONDON, July 20, 1871.

In the House of Commons this evening Mr. Gladstone announced that the Queen had solved the purchase problem by cancelling the royal warrant legalizing the purchase of commissions in the army. He declared that the House of Lords, though impugning the government plan for its abolition, had failed to sustain the purchase system. Hence the Ministers had advised Her Majesty to take action which effectually disposed of the question in accordance with the manifest will of the country.

TRIUMPH OF THE GOVERNMENT—DISCOMFITURE OF THE TORIES.

This declaration was received with vehement cheering in the House. But Mr. Disraeli and the tory members generally were unable to dissemble their anger, and bitterly denounced the arbitrary course of the government. Their leaders were puzzled to suggest what action should be taken at an event which they were hardly prepared for, notwithstanding obscure foreshadowings in the Standard of yesterday and to-day.

MR. GLADSTONE BELLICOSE.

Mr. Gladstone was defiant, and challenged the opposition to move a vote of want of confidence.

THE NEWS IN THE HOUSE OF LORDS.

Earl Granville in the House of Lords announced the determination of the Ministry and defended their policy.

It is impossible to depict the scene in either house on the announcement of the fate of the purchase system.

The Lords were deeply moved, but decorous in their demonstrations.

PUBLIC OPINION.

The opinion of all is that the action of the Ministry is bold and even desperate, and popular feeling is led to anticipate far-reaching consequences in a democratic sense.

A RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

A passenger express train from Manchester for London ran off the track to-day. Several persons were injured, some of them seriously.

A BANQUET TO THE BOURBONS AND BONAPARTES.

The London Common Council has rejected a motion to give a banquet at the Guildhall to the imperial and royal visitors now in England.

A DEMOCRATIC DEMONSTRATION.

A meeting of the democrats will be held in Hyde Park on Sunday next, the anniversary of the great reform demonstration of 1866, which was broken up by the police after a fierce conflict, in which the palings were broken down, much damage done and many persons hurt.

An Election for Parliament—A Riot Threatening at Monaghan—Troops Sent to Meet the Emergency.

TELEGRAM TO THE NEW YORK HERALD.

DUBLIN, July 20, 1871.

The election for Member of Parliament in County Monaghan will unquestionably result in the return of Charles Powell Leslie, conservative, and the former representative of the county.

PROSPECTS OF A SERIOUS RIOT.

A mob, 3,000 strong, entered the town of Monaghan this morning. Disturbances of a serious nature are threatened, and the keepers of public houses have been ordered to close their establishments.

Troops have been hastily despatched to quell the anticipated riot.

MEXICO.

The Re-election of President Juarez Considered Certain—Attempt of a Ruffian to Murder a Protestant Minister.

CITY OF MEXICO, July 11, }
Via HAVANA, July 20, 1871. }

The Lerdistas and Porfiristas are uniting closely to oppose Juarez, but the triumph of Juarez is considered certain.

The Mexican government is relieving distressed Americans from Magdalena colony.

The report that negotiations had been commenced to resume diplomatic relations with France is denied.

A Roman Catholic entered a Protestant church in the capital intending to kill the minister, but being prevented, stabbed one of the congregation.

The country in general is quiet.

Kidnapping continues.

WEST INDIES.

The Financial Difficulties of Hayti—The Elections of Porto Rico.

TELEGRAMS TO THE NEW YORK HERALD.

Hayti.

JACMEL, Hayti, June 23, 1871.

There is nothing new to report from the republic of Hayti.

The financial question absorbs public attention.

The Minister of Finance has been dismissed and there will be continual changes in the Ministry until the question is solved.

News from the northwestern frontiers state that the town of Moca has revolted in favor of General Luperon against Baez.

St. Thomas.

ST. THOMAS, July 4, 1871.

Business is dull. Freights from Porto Rico to the States have fallen very low, forty cents being offered to-day for 100 pounds of sugar.

Porto Rico.

ST. JOHN, June 27, 1871.

The elections have taken place, and there has been great excitement in this city. It would seem that Captain General Baldrich tried to influence the voting, but the Governor or Secundo Cabo Yzquierdo made objections, which caused the cry of "Viva Yzquierdo!"

Rates of freights are declining fast, and there is not much tonnage wanted.

AN ALLEGED SWINDLER DISCHARGED.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., July 20, 1871.

Richard Aiken, who has been confined in jail here for a long time on the charge of swindling New York brokers, was to-day discharged by order of Judge Joseph F. Barnard, of the Supreme Court.

LONG BRANCH.

Condition of Colonel Fisk—Preparations for the Grand Ball—Delightful Weather.

LONG BRANCH, July 20, 1871.

Colonel Fisk is rapidly improving, being able to-day, for the first time since he was injured, to be out and take a carriage ride.

The first grand ball of the season takes place at the Continental Hotel on Saturday. The Ninth regiment full band will supply the music. All the prominent people here are invited to be present.

The weather is delightfully cool. All the hotels are rapidly filling. The Continental, Mansion, United States and Metropolitan have the largest number of guests.

HAMILTON COLLEGE.

Close of Commencement Week Exercises—A Small Graduating Class—Honorary Degrees Conferred—The New Endowment Fund.

UTICA, N. Y., July 20, 1871.

The exercises of commencement week at Hamilton College were brought to a close to-day. The entire graduating class, numbering thirty-three, delivered orations. This is the smallest class that has gone out from the college in many years. The classes now pursuing their course in the college are much larger. The degree of LL. B. was conferred upon eight graduates of the Hamilton College law school. Fifteen alumni received the degree of A. M. by the diploma, and the same degree honorary was conferred upon Professor Horace Otis, of Watertown; Rev. J. W. Whitfield, of Utica; Rev. Elijah Howe, of Auburn, and Rev. H. H. Waite, of Laconia. Professor Joseph Seiboth, of Utica, received the degree of Doctor of Music. The degree of Ph. D. was conferred on Rev. D. A. Holbrook, of Sing Sing; Professor C. A. Young, of Dartmouth College, and Professor Edward Hunt, of Utica. Rev. J. R. Boyd, of Geneva; Rev. William De Los Love, of Milwaukee; Rev. L. C. Queal, of Utica; Rev. T. B. Hudson, of Clinton, were made D. D.'s. The degree of LL. D. was conferred on Sanford E. Church, Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals of the State of New York; John W. Dwinnell, Justice of the Supreme Court of California; O. S. Williams, of Clinton, and Dr. John T. Gray, of New York.

After the oratorical exercises the alumni partook of a dinner at Clinton House.

Several class meetings were held during the day. A Central Executive Committee of the Alumni was appointed, which is to appoint sub-committees throughout the country for the collection of a $2,000,000 endowment fund for the college.

The Central Committee is as follows:—F. W. Seward, Edward H. Curran, P. V. Rogers and Erastus Clark, of Utica; Professor J. S. Gardner, of Whitestown; Professor A. P. Kelsey, Rev. T. B. Hudson and the Rev. A. D. Gridley, of Clinton. Rev. Dr. N. W. Goetner, of Clinton, was elected Secretary of the committee.

Two new trustees of the college were elected, viz.:—Rev. Henry Kendall, D. D., of New York city, and J. N. Hungerford, of Corning.

The new library hall is to be completed at once.

DARTMOUTH COLLEGE.

Commencement Day at Dartmouth—Honorary Degrees Conferred.

HANOVER, N. H., July 20, 1871.

The Commencement at Dartmouth College was well attended to-day. The visitors included Governor Weston and other prominent citizens. The honorary degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred upon George W. Nesmith, of Franklin; Professor Albert Smith, of Peterboro, and John P. Healy, of Boston; that of Doctor of Divinity upon Rev. Titus Coan, of Sandwich Islands; Rev. Wm. Clark, of Amherst, and Professor Townsend, of Boston, and that of Master of Arts upon Governor Weston and J. Russell Bradford, of Boston.

SCIENCE APPRECIATED.

The American Social Science Association Snubbed.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 20, 1871.

PRAISE FROM PASSENGERS.

The passengers on board the steamship Denmark, from Liverpool to New York, which arrived here on the 12th inst., in acknowledgment of the care and kindness bestowed on them by the officers of the vessel during a long and trying passage, adopted the following address:—

We, the undersigned saloon passengers, beg to return our sincere thanks to Captain Andrews and officers for their kindness and attention during our long and trying passage, and trust that he may live to command many a steamer as ably as he now has done the steamship Denmark; also to Dr. Shaw and his able assistant for their unremitting kindness to all on board. With the above we beg to include the name of Mr. — Owens, our worthy and estimable purser.

THE BELL TOWERS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:—

Has it never occurred to the city authorities (and the newspapers) that these are built in violation of a plain principle of acoustics? The earth is a better conductor of sound than the air, and it has been a thousand times proved that a bell rung beneath the surface of the earth can be heard at a greater distance than if rung above it. The only difficulty in propagating sound through the medium of earth, consists in the enfeeblement of the sound-wave as it passes through a necessary stratum of air near the bell and another near the air. Still the true policy is to keep the bells in close proximity to the earth. The principle has been illustrated by the great bell of Moscow, the tocsin upon which resounded far beyond the limits of the city; also by the old cracked bell of the City Hall, which, when sounded near the surface of the earth, was heard many miles away. Why don't the city authorities (and the newspapers), consult the men of science before they build bell-towers?

PITTSBURG'S PISTOL PRACTICE.

Mr. S. M. Loveridge, the gentleman who was shot in Pittsburg on Wednesday, and, as is feared, mortally wounded, by one Morris K. Henry, of Utica, in consequence of some family feud, was at one time the agent of the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company, of Newark, N. J., where he was well known. Mr. Thornton, of that company, received a despatch from Pittsburg yesterday as follows:—"He is still in a critical condition, but we are hopeful." Mr. Loveridge is about forty-eight years of age.

Ku Klux Investigation—Enforcing the Laws in Georgia.

J. C. Morris, formerly of Warren county, Georgia, but now a resident of Atlanta, in that State, testified before the Ku Klux Committee to-day that he was elected Sheriff of Warren county in 1868; served one year, but was compelled to leave the county by an organized band of Ku Klux. He was under examination for five hours, during which he said on one occasion he was met and waylaid by disguised men and shot at and badly wounded. He gave a circumstantial account of the killing of Dr. Darden, who had been put into jail to await trial for murder. The doctor was taken out by disguised men, who burned down the jail in order to reach the prisoner. They forced him to surrender to them the pistol in his possession and led him forth and shot him dead. This was in 1869. While attempting to make arrests of the guilty parties the witness was forced to flee from the county. None of them have been tried or punished. The witness detailed various instances of outrages. He and others had sheltered six or seven men who had escaped the threats of the Ku Klux and afterwards run them off to a place called Dearing. There they were seized by disguised men. One of the fugitives escaped, but his companions were murdered. The witness also gave an account of the circumstances attending the murder of State Senator Atkins on his return from Washington by disguised men. There had been no murders in the county of Warren since the beginning of 1870. The people, however, are in great terror and fear of their lives. Large numbers of colored men have gone to Mississippi, Louisiana and other States where they deem they will be more secure.

FEARFUL BOILER EXPLOSION.

Explosion of a Locomotive on the Lehigh Valley Railroad—Six Lives Lost—The Bodies Horribly Mangled—One Man Blown Across the River.

MAUCH CHUNK, Pa., July 20, 1871.

The engine Vulcan, on the Lehigh Valley Railroad, exploded this morning at Coalport. The engineer, fireman and four train hands were killed. All have been found, except the fireman, who is supposed to be in the canal. The engineer was thrown about three hundred yards on the mountain side. He fell on a tree and was nearly cut in two.

One of the hands was thrown across the river. He has not been identified, but is supposed to be a man named Mussall. The bodies were horribly mangled. All the men that were on the engine were killed. They were taking their breakfast at the time of the explosion, the cause of which is unknown.

Thirteen workmen fell with the bridge, two of whom were killed, one was probably fatally injured and six were more or less seriously injured.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT TRENTON.

Accidental Shooting of Captain Dobbins, of Taylor's Zouaves.

TRENTON, N. J., July 20, 1871.

Captain John Dobbins, of Taylor's Zouaves, was accidentally shot this evening, on the banks of the Assanpink Creek. He was digging worms for fishing purposes, when his pistol fell from his pistol pocket and was discharged. The ball entered his groin and cannot be found. He lies in a dangerous condition.

A WOMAN'S BLESSING ON THE MAYOR.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:—

The Chief Magistrate of this great metropolis, the Hon. A. Oakey Hall, has nobly proved himself worthy of the title prefixed to his name. Henceforth it will be, for him, no empty, meaningless title. The hearts as well as the lips of the citizens will speak when they say, "His Honor the Mayor, God bless him," for to his wise and humane policy, his strict fulfilment of his duty as chief protector of the city, regardless of any outside considerations, and to that alone, is due our deliverance from what, but for his timely intervention and protest, would have been, as the sad events of the 12th only too clearly prove, the most disgraceful, senseless and bloody riot that ever brought "battle, murder and sudden death" into our midst.

Blinded by political passion and prejudice, or by false and fanatical ideas of liberty and patriotism, a great portion of the community is not yet able to see the truth in this matter and to accord this honor to our Mayor. So strangely blind, indeed, are they, so sadly is their reason unsettled and perverted that in the humane and heroic guardian of their peace, who, regardless of the consequences to himself, which he could not fail clearly to foresee, did what merited only their gratitude and respect, they see only a coward, an enemy and a traitor! Blindness, strange and sad, indeed, with which let us not be unmercifully severe, but, following Mayor Hall's own generous example, look upon rather in sorrow than in anger. Time works wonders. When it brings back to them their right minds, their own consciousness of error and sense of shame will be punishment severe enough.

Let those members of the community who, having no part in politics, happily escape both the danger and the imputation of being so prejudiced, blinded and demoralized by the influence of party feeling as to be incapable of seeing and judging rightly; let the women of New York, who have such deed cause to be grateful to the Mayor, prove themselves, in deed and in truth, the "better half" of the community by giving honor to whom honor is so richly due, and, as some atonement for the wrongs done him by so many of his own sex, constitute themselves his fearless champions and defenders.

An eloquent tribute to their prowess on the 12th from the graceful pen of one of my own sex has gladdened the hearts of the brave policemen and found an echo in many a grateful citizen's heart. Shall the higher moral courage of the Mayor, who in his efforts to protect the city from the rioters subjected himself to wounds more painful than those of the flesh, go without public recognition and reward on the part of my sex? Is the bloodless triumph of his single hard-working heart and brain over the brute force and savage propensities of thousands less glorious, less to be honored than that achieved by the clubs of the policemen and the guns of the soldiery? Ah! no woman in whose heart the music of the "still small voice" is not drowned by the "sound and fury" of faction or fanaticism can refrain from joining in the fervent prayer, "God bless the Mayor and all whom he holds dear."

SCHOOLBOYS AS SOLDIERS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:—

Permit me to say a few important words in regard to our public schools in the metropolis, which are not equalled in any other city, in the manner in which they are governed. I would deem it necessary to speak of one of the many things wanting to tend to the amusement and physical exercise of the scholars of our different institutions of learning.

It would not be a bad idea if each school would organize itself into a "school regiment," on the same plan as our militia, and make it a part of their duty to give public parades and military drills on the national holidays or on such days as the Board or Superintendent would see fit. Or else, if a regiment from each school does not meet with approval, let the 800 or 900 students in the College of the City of New York form themselves into a body on the same plan as the Boston School regiment, which is composed of students in the High School of that city. Instead of interfering with the regular routine of study it would greatly relieve the monotony of school life, which so seldom is the case with every schoolboy. Therefore let some of our wealthy citizens come forward and support this movement in the right direction, and let the "Boys of Thirty-five" start the ball a rolling, and then we can see how our sons can muster in strength. Believing you will give your support to this wise measure, I remain yours,

A NEW DOWN EAST SENSATION.

Severe Earthquake Shocks in Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts.

Three Distinct Vibrations Felt in Boston.

Houses Shaken to Their Foundations—Consternation Among the Inhabitants.

TIDAL WAVE AT EASTPORT, MAINE.

A Regular Shake in Massachusetts—Boston Alarmed—Three Distinct Shocks Felt—Severe Vibrations in Other Cities.

BOSTON, July 20, 1871.

The New England States have again been disturbed by an unmistakable and genuine earthquake. The shock of last autumn was regarded as altogether an exceptional affair, but in less than a year the Yankees have been disturbed in their slumbers by one of these unwelcome terrestrial commotions. The disturbance occurred about one o'clock this morning. It appears to have extended through Eastern Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Maine. It was most severe in New Hampshire, where buildings were violently shaken, crockery thrown down, doors settled, bells rung and other abnormal demonstrations made. In different sections of Boston the shock was distinctly felt, and thousands of persons were AWAKENED FROM A SOUND SLEEP.

All accounts state that there was a decided and well marked jarring and quaking, sufficient to distinguish it as an earthquake. In the United States Court House, State House and other large buildings the shock was particularly felt. Occurring at such a part of the night it did not attract the attention which it otherwise would. Many attributed this jarring sensation to a passing team or some other cause. A gentleman living on Mount Pleasant felt

THREE DISTINCT SHOCKS.

The first of which aroused himself and wife, she insisting that there was somebody else in the room. The shock was very perceptibly felt in all parts of Cambridge, a large number of persons being awakened by the same. A gentleman who resides on North avenue states that he was awake at the time, and his first impression was that some one was trying to get into his room, but immediately after the bed shook and the whole

HOUSE TREMBLED VIOLENTLY.

The jar lasted about ten seconds. A Mr. Simon Algheria, who resides at the corner of Norfolk and Worcester streets, was awakened by the shock, and, believing the noise and jar to be occasioned by burglars, opened one of his chamber windows and shouted loudly for a policeman. Officers Copeland and Livingston soon appeared and searched the premises, but without finding a thief. They then informed Mr. Algheria of the shock, and he and his disturbed family once more retired to their rest, apparently much relieved.

Two shocks were felt at Winter Hill, Somerville—the first being the strongest. Those who were awakened by it term the second as being a rumbling noise, hardly explainable from its queerness. The clock on the brick church on Highland avenue struck one a few seconds after the last shock.

Residents of Jamaica Plain felt the shock plainly. It was also very decided at Concord, Mass., and awoke many people from their sleep.

At Dedham the shock was felt very perceptibly, many of the houses being considerably shaken and causing a general awakening among the sleeping occupants. The shock lasted some three seconds, and seemed to pass in a southerly direction. The shock was also felt in Malden, Lynn, and likewise at Hanover.

The Shock at Salem.

SALEM, July 20, 1871.

The gentle vibrations of the earthquake were indistinctly perceptible here. In some instances the shock was sufficient to rattle dishes in the pantries and ring door bells. All the night officers on duty felt the unusual sensation.

The Shock at Lowell.

LOWELL, July 20, 1871.

We had a perceptible touch of an earthquake this morning about one o'clock. The heavy rumbling, which continued several seconds, shook buildings around here and awakened the inmates. No damage was done.

The Shock at Lawrence.

LAWRENCE, July 20, 1871.

About five or six minutes before one o'clock this morning quite a brisk shock of an earthquake awoke many of our citizens. There was no vibration, but a sort of a heavy jar and then a rumbling and bouncing sound, as if a heavy wagon was going over rocks occasionally. The shock and noise lasted four or five seconds.

The Shock at Newburyport.

NEWBURYPORT, July 20, 1871.

About five minutes of one o'clock this morning a heavy jarring sound was felt all over this vicinity, lasting from twenty to twenty-five seconds, and was the severest shock of an earthquake felt for many years. There were but few persons that were not awakened by it.

Severe Shocks Throughout Maine—Tidal Wave at Eastport.

PORTLAND, Me., July 20, 1871.

The shock of the earthquake at this point was peculiar. It was not like that experienced last year, a regular sickening vibration, but a violent trembling with a low moaning noise. Every structure in the city was shaken, but not one was much injured, because the motions, though vigorous, were simply terribly tremulous. People leaped from their beds and ran into the streets and in many instances utterly regardless of the sacredness of drapery. The shock was also very distinctly felt by vessels in the harbor, and in one bark a man in his fright jumped overboard. He was rescued.

At Augusta, Bangor and other points the shock was of the same character—violent, but not destructive, by reason, perhaps, of its slight length in vibration.

In Eastport the shock was felt more severely, and there was quite a tidal wave, but still no damage resulted.

SACO, July 20, 1871.

The cities of Saco and Biddeford were pretty well shaken up by an earthquake at one o'clock this morning. The people generally were awakened and alarmed, but no particular damage was done.

BRUNSWICK, July 20, 1871.

A severe shock of earthquake was felt here at one o'clock this morning. Persons awake at that hour say it was the most violent shock they ever experienced.

The Granite State Shaken from Its Propriety—Consternation Among Citizens.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 20, 1871.

A severe shock of earthquake was felt in this city about one o'clock this morning. Windows and crockery rattled, beds shook, the old plastering on the jail fell, and the night workmen in one of the breweries ran out very much frightened.

A gentleman just from Mount Washington says the effect there was very startling, and some of the guests at the Tip Top House declared that they were really pitched out of their beds.

CONCORD, N. H., July 20, 1871.

A very heavy shock of earthquake was felt here at five minutes of one o'clock this morning, accompanied by a deep, heavy, rumbling noise. It passed from north to south. Buildings were violently rocked and a church bell rung. Reports from the different parts of the State indicate that it was very general.

MANCHESTER, July 20, 1871.

Several shocks of earthquake were felt by the people of this city at about five minutes before one o'clock this morning. The shocks were accompanied by a heavy rumbling noise and the doors and windows and furniture of many houses were rattled, causing considerable alarm to the inmates. The vibrations lasted about half a minute.

LAKE VILLAGE, July 20, 1871.

The most severe earthquake shock in this region for many years occurred about one o'clock this morning. It lasted nearly a minute, and people were very generally awakened from their sleep. It was felt at Merideth and at Plymouth, and was particularly sharp at Livermore Falls, above Plymouth.

GREAT FALLS, July 20, 1871.

Two heavy shocks of earthquake, following in quick succession, were felt here this morning about one o'clock. They continued about thirty seconds and seemed to pass from northeast to southwest. So violent were the vibrations that windows and furniture were shaken and door bells rung. A heavy rain of several hours' duration followed.

KEENE, July 20, 1871.

Two severe shocks of earthquake were felt here this morning about seven minutes of one. The motions seemed to be from east to west and were of about ten seconds' duration. They were accompanied by a heavy rumbling noise. Bells were rung and buildings violently shaken.

CENTRE HARBOR, July 20, 1871.

Last night two quite severe shocks of earthquake were felt at this place. The guests of the Moulton House heard the house bells ring. The church bell also rung some time. Many clocks were stopped and other indications of a severe shock were visible in the morning.

NEW YORK CITY.

The Department of Public Parks announce that if the weather be fine there will be music by the Central Park Band at the Battery Park to-day from six to eight P. M.

While James Ward, a young man of twenty years, was standing on the pier foot of Twenty-second street, East River, on Wednesday evening, he was taken with a fit, and falling into the dock was drowned. Officer Healy, of the Eighteenth precinct, subsequently recovered the body and took it to the Morgue to await an investigation before Coroner Keenan.

Coroner Keenan yesterday held an inquest at 273 Fifth avenue over the remains of Mr. Frederick O. Sweetzer, late a merchant at 81 Worth street, who was found dead in bed at seven o'clock in the morning. Wooster Beach, M. D., made a post-mortem examination on the body and found that death resulted from uremia. Mr. Sweetzer was a native of Massachusetts and aged twenty-six years.

An unknown man, aged about forty-five years and five feet nine inches high, was brought to the Morgue from 235 East Fourth street. The deceased had blue eyes, dark brown hair and mustache. On his person was found a book, with the name "Fred. William Adams, Grenville, near Jersey City." He was dressed in black coat and vest, black necktie, gray mixed pants and shoes. The body was placed on the Morgue and photograph taken.

At a meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners yesterday morning Captain De Camp, of the Second precinct, was placed on the retired list at his own request, on a salary of $1,000 per annum. Captain De Camp has been on the police force of this city twenty-one years, during which time he was ever found at his post of duty, and performed his arduous labors with a zeal and promptness worthy of imitation. The officers who were wounded in the riot on the 12th were promoted to roundsmen, and several changes were made in the personnel of the precincts.

The Roman Catholic Temperance Convention met last evening at St. Columba's Hall, West Twenty-fifth street. Delegates from all the temperance societies connected with the different Catholic churches in the city were present, except St. Bridget's and St. Jerome's; Mr. Nutley, the President of the Convention, in the chair and Mr. McMackin, secretary. Addresses were made and resolutions adopted showing that officer Patrick Logan was a brave man, and, together with other temperance men, had denounced the idea of interfering with the Orangemen.

A meeting of the Richard O'Gorman Benevolent Association of the First ward took place last evening, at the association's rooms, 94 Greenwich street, and completed arrangements for the summer festival, to take place on Wednesday next. The association numbers over two hundred members, including the following officers:—President, James Cherry; Vice President, Thomas Brannigan; Recording Secretary, Henry Bick; Corresponding Secretary, M. P. McNamara; Financial Secretary, J. J. Whelan; Treasurer, James McCauley; Board of Trustees, Thomas Cherry, Pat. Cullen, M. T. Griffin, Thomas F. Sheehan, W. D. Powers; Sergeant-at-Arms, John Waters.

WHERE TO GET CHEAP COUNTRY BOARD.

NEW YORK, July 20, 1871.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:—

I have read in your valuable journal several complaints that the watering places in this vicinity are deserted, the cause of which is that those which are generally patronized, such as Long Branch, Rockaway, &c., are practicable only to millionnaires, while over others the dark clouds of rowdyism, gambling and dissipation rest. The expense of living at some of them for a short season has to be atoned for by a long winter's economy—an almost impossible virtue in this gay metropolis. But all this can be avoided by seeking new fields of health and pleasure, as I did, by placing myself on board the steamer Helen, Captain Throgmorton, and running down to the Hook, where we entered the Shrewsbury River amid scenery fully equal to that of the Rhine, the Avon, the Blackwater or the Lee. Every mile or two was a safe and easy landing, with fine hotels, &c. I went ashore at Fairhaven (an appropriate name), and after being inwardly refreshed prospected the neighborhood and found dozens of houses along the beach where visitors could get well boarded and housed, with every facility for bathing in the purest kind of salt water, boating, fishing, &c., for the moderate charge of $6 a $8 per week. Crabs, clams, oysters, &c., lay all around, waiting their turn to be caught. Of course I located there for the balance of the season, and recommend others to do likewise.

PROBABLE INFANTICIDE.

Yesterday afternoon the bodies of two infants, apparently about five months old, were found by James Boyle, of Red Hook Point, in a cigar box floating in the dock foot of Houston street, East River. Captain Bennett, of the Eleventh precinct, caused the remains to be sent to the Morgue and notified Coroner Young. Evidently the children had been born alive.

The Knox Hat is Becoming of World-wide reputation. Travellers just returned from Paris say it is all the go on the Boulevards des Italiens. Our correspondent informs us that it is the "agony" in Regent street and Hyde Park, in London, and our Consul at Edinburg has stunned the "canny Scots" of the capital of North Britain by sporting a KNOX in High street. It threatens to supplant the sombrero at Madrid and the fez at Constantinople. KNOX is unquestionably a revolutionist, for he has everywhere turned the people's heads and revolutionized their hats. He is the reformer of the age, and has a right to claim that he is the projector of "the hat of the period."

The Seventh Veterans and the Forty-Seventh Up the Hudson.

THE SEVENTH REGIMENT VETERANS.

A Remarkable Body of Men—A Day Afloat With Some of the "Old Uns"—Forty Years' Service—The Warriors and The Sunday School—Why They Are "A Fine Body of Men"—The Hymns They Didn't Sing.

"The finest body of men I ever saw!"—and they know, for they said so themselves—left the foot of Fourteenth street yesterday morning, on board the steamer Armenia, on a "cruise" up the Hudson. They returned to the city just as the setting sun was glinting over the golden-gloried waves, and looked even then, after a day's fatigue duty, as fine as they looked under the leaden sky of the early morn—perhaps a little more ruddy-hued, but it was the ca—the sun that did it. There were over one hundred of them, under command of the courtly Colonel Lefferts, the "Vets" of the Seventh regiment, or, more properly speaking, "Veterans of the National Guard." The little cohort marched down to the boat, headed by Grafulla's Seventh Regiment Band, and wearing the badge and ribbon of the association; and, in the opinion of entirely disinterested parties, they were "a very fine body of men." They were bound on their annual excursion, which had been originally fixed for Thursday of last week, but the riots interfered with the affair and they had to "make different arrangements." The association comprises about eight hundred members, all of whom have served the full militia term of seven years or served actively during the war, either of which services entitles members of the Seventh to rank as "veterans."

"THE VETS"

are quite an institution, and embrace among their members many gentlemen who have served over a quarter of a century in the regiment. The organization which is now known as the Seventh was formed in June, 1806, and comprised four companies. In 1824 they became a battalion, under the name of the "National Guard," which name was adopted in honor of the corps commanded by Lafayette in France. On the 1st of October, 1825, they were officially numbered in the State militia as the Twenty-seventh regiment, and were known as such until the passage of the law of 1847, when they became the Seventh, and have since continued under that number. By a comparatively recent law the title "National Guard," which had been adopted by them, was conferred by the Legislature on all regiments of the active State militia.

The oldest member of the command is Colonel Thomas M. Adriance, who was present yesterday, and whose record dates from May 18, 1819—forty-two years. Among other ancient and honorable veterans are Colonel W. R. Vermilyea, Lieutenant Colonel Cyrus H. Loutrel, W. D. Briggs and Sergeant Embury, who have each served about forty years; P. D. Braisted, Jr., G. L. Arrowsmith and Charles B. Bostwick, twenty-five years, and Colonel James Price, twenty years. These, however, do not comprise all the names whose services date back for those periods, but they give an idea of why this is such a "fine body of men."

THE CRUISE

yesterday was of the most enjoyable description, the steamer proceeding up the river to Newburg Bay, and stopping for a brief visit at Iona Island on the return. Despite the fact that the morning looked cloudy the day proved to be the most propitious that could be desired, and the glorious Hudson never, since it first trickled its way through the Highlands, looked more magnificent. On the way up the river numerous friends of the regiment, who reside in the beautiful villas that cluster along the slopes of Mount Washington, Tarrytown and Irvington, had flung out their bunting, and tiny white handkerchiefs fluttered pretty salutes from lawn and balcony. The river's bosom was white with the sails of pleasure and commercial craft, and the shores were buried in a wealth of richest verdure.

ON BOARD THE ARMENIA

everything was friendship, and it was a strange sight to see men enjoy themselves in the hearty manner that these veterans did. It was essentially a "stag party," for there was not a lady on board, and this was the chief reason why the sight was strange. The "refining influence of female society" was not there—nothing but "a lot of horrid men," as Susan B. Anthony would or might say. But they were men with big hearts and genial natures, each toward the other, and the "refining influence" was their own—and plenty of it.

THEY DIDN'T SING HYMNS,

not even for the delectation of the Sabbath school children from Poughkeepsie, whom they met at Iona, but they sang sweetly and harmoniously, both on the boat and on the island, such pathetic ditties as "Old Grimes is Dead," "Hash," "What is the Use of Repining?" "Mary had a Little Lamb," "The Crows," "The Star-Bangled Spanner," and "sich like;" and Colonel Fowler and others of the "Morning Glory Coterie" told nursery stories when they were not interrupted. Colonel Oakey, too, was invaluable in conducting the musical exercises, and when the répertoire of the crowd was exhausted he actually composed a song or two extemporaneously, besides delivering an address to the Sabbath school children at the island. One of the female teachers, as the "vets" were marching down to the boat, remarked to an elderly female scholar, "Ain't they a splendid party?" If anybody had seen the way Delmonico's waiters had to fly around on the boat, both going and returning, and the splendid "spread" on a groaning table amidships, they would at once have known why this was such a "fine body of men."

Among the distinguished members present were Colonel Lefferts, Colonel Emmons Clark, commanding the Seventh; Colonel John Fowler, Jr., Colonel John Oakey, Colonel Vermilyea, Colonel H. C. Shumway, Colonel W. H. Riblet, Major Joseph B. Young, Major C. H. Meday, Lieutenant Colonel Loutrel, D. M. Boidridge, Robert C. Rathbone and the youthful P. D. Braisted, Jr., commander of the "Third Blues." The Excursion Committee comprised G. D. Arrowsmith, C. B. Bostwick and R. C. Rathbone.

THE FORTY-SEVENTH REGIMENT EXCURSION

Enthusiastic Reception of the Brooklyn Pets at Newburg and Poughkeepsie—The Forty-seventh Regiment Reviewed by President Grant—Banners, Beauty and Pyrotechnics—Ovation at the Opera House—Serious Carriage Accident—Where the President's Money Went To.

POUGHKEEPSIE, July 20, 1871.

The reception of the Forty-seventh Brooklyn (E. D.) regiment in this city last evening was a fine affair. The regiment left New York on the steamer Mary Powell at half-past three o'clock in the afternoon, accompanied by a large number of invited guests, among whom are the following:—Colonel Sterry, Sixth New York; Lieutenant Colonel Dunn, Eighth New York; Lieutenant Colonel Gildersleeve, Twelfth New York; Adjutant Murphy, Twelfth New York; Judge Voorhees, Brooklyn, E. D., and others. The trip up the river was a splendid one, though at the start the rain poured down mercilessly. Upon entering the southern gate of the Highlands, however, the clouds lifted and the rain ceased falling. On the main deck aft all was mirth and jollity, O'Brien's Forty-seventh regiment band discoursing excellent music, and saluted West Point with "The Star Spangled Banner" as the steamer headed towards Stony Point. At Newburg a vast throng had assembled upon the piers and hill tops, and greeted the excursionists with immense cheering, while from Washington's Headquarters a squad from the Nineteenth Orange county regiment fired salvos of artillery. As the steamer was leaving the dock fireworks were displayed from house tops, and cheers from boat and city rent the air.

This city was reached at eight P. M., the arrival being announced by cannon salutes from the Kaal Rock. As soon as the Brooklyn visitors landed they were escorted into line, thousands of persons watching their marching. The Twenty-first regiment, of Dutchess county, Colonel James Smith commanding, received the Forty-seventh. Then, in turn, the Twenty-first filed past the Forty-seventh, when the line marched through the principal streets of the city. Main street was literally lined with bonfires, while rockets and balls from Roman candles flashed through the air in every direction. Many private residences were brilliantly illuminated, and "Old Glory" was hung out everywhere.

The march over, the Forty-seventh was escorted to the Armory of the Twenty-first, where they left their arms, and were then marched to Collingwood's Opera House at twenty minutes to ten P. M. The galleries were densely packed with ladies and gentlemen. Flockton's Twenty-first Regiment Band took a position on the stage and played a march when the Brooklyn soldiers marched into the auditorium, their bright uniforms and pleasant faces being a special target for opera glasses in the galleries. At the proper moment Colonel Austin, of the Forty-seventh, in a few but well-timed remarks, turned his regiment over to the command of Colonel Smith, of the Twenty-first. The latter also made brief but fitting remarks of welcome, and then gave the order "Break ranks." Against the scenery over the stage, in gas jets, was a star and the figures "47." In the centre of the dress circle hung two American flags gracefully entwined, and to the right and left of the stage were stacks of muskets, surmounted by Twenty-first regiment guidons.

When the repast was concluded Colonel Austin, of the Forty-seventh, called his command to order, and Recorder Robert E. Taylor, of the city of Poughkeepsie, in a handsome speech, which was heartily applauded. Colonel Austin replied in a humorous vein, and closed by saying that their reception exceeded the expectations of the most sanguine. He paid a high compliment to the Twenty-first, and invited the members of that organization to return the visit. Mayor H. G. Eastman was next introduced. (He should have been the first one presented to the Brooklyn people, but some one had blundered.) In behalf of the citizens of Poughkeepsie and in accordance with a resolution of the Common Council he tendered the regiment the freedom of the city.

WELCOMED THE REGIMENT

"The First division, National Guard, State of New York," was responded to by Lieutenant Colonel Gildersleve, of the Twelfth New York. He alluded to the late riot in New York, charging that everywhere the soldiers performed their duty manfully.

Major Gildersleve was followed by Captain H. R. Woodin, formerly of the One Hundred and Fiftieth New York volunteers. The Captain is a well known wag, and his speech was chock full of merriment, fully sustaining that reputation.

The festivities were then closed by Miss Julia Alexander, Poughkeepsie's favorite, singing "The Star Spangled Banner," the soldiers joining in the chorus, making the scene one of the liveliest interest.

This morning several hours were spent by the members of the Forty-seventh in visiting, under escort, the various points of interest.

AN ACCIDENT.

One carriage load came near meeting with a fatal accident. The horses were coming down a hill at the State Hospital grounds, when suddenly becoming frightened the driver lost all control of them and they ran away. In the carriage at the time were Judge Voorhees, of the Eastern district of Brooklyn; Sergeant Major Lethbridge, of the Forty-seventh; Captain Hayes, of the Forty-seventh, and Joseph Commose, one of the guests. Judge Voorhies received severe but not serious injuries about the head and shoulders and is in great pain. Captain Hayes was cut in the back of the head and Mr. Commose was injured internally but not fatally about the chest. Mr. Lethbridge was only slightly injured. The driver escaped unhurt. Dr. Atwood, surgeon of the Forty-seventh, who was following in another carriage, rendered all the assistance possible, and all the injured are doing well. At two o'clock this afternoon the Twenty-first and Forty-seventh met at the armory of the former, the Twenty-first being reinforced by Company H, of Fishkill Landing, which arrived on an early train.

When line was formed the procession proceeded through the principal streets of the city. The march up Main street was a fine one and as the companies filed by the crowds on the walks cheered and clapped their hands vociferously, while flags and handkerchiefs without number were waved from windows and housetops. The line of march ended at Eastman Park. Fully 8,000 people had assembled and the grand stand was filled with elegantly dressed ladies, while throngs of men, women and children filed along the romantic pathways and shady groves, now admiring the Soldiers' Memorial Fountain, near the main entrance, then gathering about the lake or crowding the granite walls surrounding the spacious grounds. At half-past three P. M. the regiments marched in with drums beating and colors flying and formed in line in the centre of the lower park, opposite the grand stand. Suddenly there was a rumor that and his party were to put in an appearance. The report ran like wildfire through the crowd and it had a good foundation. The President actually did come and it happened in this way:—It was known that he was on a visit to Staatsburg and that he was to pass here on the Hudson River Railroad this afternoon. A special train was to bring him here from Staatsburg and then he was to take the last train for New York, due here fifteen minutes later. When the special train arrived Mayor Eastman was notified that the President was at the depot waiting for the fast train. The Mayor, together with Postmaster Smith and Alderman Parker started with two carriages for the depot, where the distinguished party was met. A hasty introduction followed, when the Mayor broached the object of his call. At first Mr. Hoey, one of the Presidential party, objected, fearing there was not time enough and that the train would be missed. Postmaster Smith assured all that they could be conveyed to Eastman Park and back in ample time, when consent was given, and the visitors were hurried to the park. They were at once driven to the reviewing stand, on the south side, and then there was to get a glimpse of the Commander-in-Chief of the armies of the United States. The President stood the gaze of the thousands with composure for a moment, when the word was given and the Forty-seventh passed him in review. The regiment never marched better, and created a fine impression. The review occupied but five minutes' time, when the Presidential party resumed their seats in their carriages.

AN OVERWHELMING RUSH.

At this juncture Mayor Eastman, taking off his hat, proposed three cheers for the President of the United States. The response came immediately from thousands of throats, making the welkin ring, and three more were given immediately after, and then the carriages, with their occupants, were driven in great haste to the railroad depot, where the fast train was waiting. The President and party embarked, and were soon whirled away to New York.

After the excitement died away the regiments formed in line again and marched to Market street, where the Forty-seventh broke ranks, the members repairing to their respective quarters for supper. After supper they proceeded to the depot and embarked for New York on a special train, amid salutes and cheers.

WHERE THE MONEY WENT TO.

Some time ago President Grant passed here on his way south. When he left the railway restaurant he accidentally left his wallet on the counter, containing fifteen dollars. He telegraphed back to put the money in the Soldiers' Monument fund, and such a disposition was made of it. To-day the carriage containing the President and Mayor Eastman was driven past the Soldiers' Memorial Fountain, Mayor Eastman taking occasion to draw the President's attention to it. The President replied, "Well, I am glad I have seen it, for now I know where my money went to." Before parting with Mayor Eastman the President assured him that at some future time he would pay him and the city a longer visit.

BROOKLYN AFFAIRS.

The River Mystery—The Body Still Unidentified.

The mutilated remains of the man found floating in the water at the foot of Conover street on Tuesday morning are still at the Morgue, in Willoughby street, unidentified. About one hundred persons have viewed the body, expecting to recognize the face of some missing friend or relative. One young lady called and recognized him as a young man to whom she was engaged to be married. She burst into tears, and after weeping a short time over the body suddenly left without making any explanation and has not been seen since. The deceased is apparently about twenty-seven years of age, and had been in the water but a short time when discovered.

Another Illicit Still Seized.

Yesterday the Internal Revenue Assessors were informed that a still of 200 gallons capacity, with all the customary paraphernalia, had been removed from an illicit distillery in the Fifth ward to the premises 138 Pearl street, near Sands. The officers found it at the place indicated and had it removed to the United States Marshal's office.

FIRE IN BROADWAY.

Yesterday morning a fire occurred on the fourth floor of No. 512 Broadway, which, with the third floor, is unoccupied, The second floor is occupied by James Wehl & Co., merchant tailors; damage by water, $2,000; insured for $4,000. The first floor and basement are occupied by Lewis P. Tibbals, manufacturer of toys; damage $3,500; insured for $6,000. The building is owned by H. Martin; damage $2,500; insured. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

DEATH OF THE DOUBLE-HEADED CHILD.

[From the Boston Herald, July 20.]

This remarkable phenomenon, which arrived in this city a few days since and was shortly to have been exhibited to the public, died last evening at No. 6 Bowdoin street. The child, a girl, had two heads, four arms and two legs, all upon a single body, and the two portions of the body were so intimately connected that the death of one rendered that of the other inevitable. The child had enjoyed excellent health from her birth, nine months ago, until within two weeks, at which time one half exhibited signs of illness. This, however, was but temporary. It recovered and was bright and playful. Since reaching Boston, a few days since, the other half was taken sick, and died at five o'clock yesterday afternoon, the other surviving until eight o'clock in the evening. The spectacle was equally novel, strange and unparalleled. Upon one end of the body reposed the head of the dead infant; upon the other that of the live one with its eyes still bright and curious and its lungs in full breathing order. All that medical aid could accomplish was done, but it was found unavailing. The child died in the presence of its parents. The corpse presents the appearance of two infants asleep. Apparently they escaped the ordinary suffering incident to death, for the countenances had the expression of repose. The disposition of the body is not determined upon. Several of our physicians were desirous last evening of having it opened for examination, but it is doubtful if the parents, who are Joseph and Ann E. Finley, consent to this. They reside in Monroe county, Ohio, and carry on a farm. They have other children, although none of these have exhibited any unusual development. The parents were especially devoted to the little marvel, and their sorrow at its death is great.

DOMINION OF CANADA.

Commercial Relations Between the United States and Canada.

KINGSTON, Ontario, July 20, 1871.

The President and several members of the Executive Council of the Dominion Board of Trade have arrived here. A meeting of the Council takes place to-day. The Council, by invitation, met the Kingston Board of Trade and were welcomed by the President, Hon. Mr. Young was called upon to address the meeting. He reviewed the proceedings of the Board and explained the object of the present meeting, which was to consider an invitation from the National Board of Trade of the United States to appoint a committee to consider the subject of more beneficial commercial relations between the two countries. Several gentlemen of the respective boards addressed the meeting, resulting in a unanimous opinion in favor of accepting the invitation of the United States Board, on the ground that the geographical position of both countries renders necessary a much more free exchange of the results of the industry of both.

Expected Arrival of the Tyne Crew at Halifax.

HALIFAX, July 20, 1871.

The Tyne crew will arrive here in the North American next week and go to St. John to row against the Paris crew, after which they will come to the Halifax regatta.

Rush of American Tourists to Canadian Watering Places—A Quebec Yacht Sold to a New Yorker.

QUEBEC, July 20, 1871.

General T. W. Sherman passed through here on this way to Cacouna, where the Governor General and staff, Sir G. Cartier and Hon. Mr. Speaker Cockburn have also arrived. The village is crowded with visitors. The influx of American tourists has largely increased since the 5th of July. Five hundred arrived at one of the hotels yesterday.

The directors of the North Shore Railroad, who went to New York recently, were highly successful in negotiating the company's bonds.

The yacht Gauntlet, which this week beat the Shannon, the winner of the late regatta, has been sold to a New York gentleman.

GENERAL SHERMAN.

General Sherman at Lake George—A Hopeful View for the Administration—General Grant's Re-election the Best Thing for the Country—The Ku Klux Myth.

LAKE GEORGE, N. Y., July 20, 1871.

General W. T. Sherman, with several members of his family, arrived here this evening, and is stopping at the Fort William Henry Hotel. He is on his way to St. Albans, Vt., to meet Mrs. Sherman.

In a conversation with your correspondent this evening the General expressed the opinion that General Grant would be renominated and re-elected, and he thought it would be the best thing for the country. So far as he has been able to judge from his travels in the South and elsewhere everything in the country is prosperous under Grant's administration and there is no occasion for a change.

The General expresses the opinion that in a short time nothing more will be heard of the Ku Klux. As it is, the reports about them have been greatly exaggerated. This fact is proved, the General says, by the yield of the cotton crop this year at the South. Were the stories told about the Ku Klux true the General thinks the cotton crop would have been much less. As it is the yield is greater than in former years.

General Sherman leaves in the morning.

THE NATIONAL GAME.

The game yesterday afternoon on the Union grounds between the Mutuals and Atlantics was a poor affair, and was witnessed by only about two hundred persons. The following is the score by innings:—

Clubs.	1st.	2d.	3d.	4th.	5th.	6th.	7th.	8th.	9th.
Mutual	3	7	1	4	2	1	6	1	0	—25
Atlantic	2	0	0	0	0	1	4	0	3	—10

Umpire—Mr. Wildey, of the Mutual Amateur Club.

Base Ball Notes.

To-day the Mutuals and Excelsiors play on the Union grounds.

The game between the Mutuals and the Boston Red Stockings, which was announced for to-morrow (Saturday), has been postponed, in consequence of the illness of two or three of the Boston players.

Sunday night the "Mutes" start on their first Western tour, and will be gone about twelve or fifteen days.

The Trentons and Neptunes had a lively time of it yesterday at Trenton. During the second inning a general row occurred about some decision the umpire had made, and for a few moments the prospect for a free fight was cheering in the extreme. Finally, however, the affair was settled, when the game again went on, and was finally won by the Trentons, with a score of 19 to 8.

COULTER'S CONSTITUENT.

A Disappointed Voter—He Commits an Assault on Judge Coulter—Complainant and Judge.

Some time ago Police Justice James E. Coulter, of the Yorkville Police Court, as is alleged, promised to procure work in the Central Park for Larry McNair, one of his Twenty-second ward supporters. The Justice forgot all about his promise, as politicians are proverbial for doing, and Larry was "left out in the cold." This victim of political ingratitude yesterday afternoon met the Justice opposite the Yorkville Police Court. Larry, in language more pertinent than polite, coolly called the judicial gentleman "a liar" and "a son of a sea cook," and cast an imputation of canine descent on the jolly Judge. This was too much, and the Justice "went for him" regardless of the rules of the London P. R.

THEY CLINCHED FIRMLY and a desperate struggle ensued. It was difficult to determine which was "the best man," when officer Warne, of the Court squad, ran over, separated the belligerents and arrested "Larry." He was taken over to the Court and locked up.

Justice Coulter smoothed his ruffled clothes and temper, walked across to the Court, and ascended the bench. When he had disposed of the cases waiting his adjudication he ordered Larry to be brought up. The latter, in his torn shirt sleeves, was arraigned before the bench, and the complainant discharged him after administering a severe reprimand. The ingratitude of republics is proverbial; so, also should that of politicians be.

BOARD OF ASSISTANT ALDERMEN.

Ordinances as to Hacks—Special Committee on Public Processions—A Vote Over the Mayor's Veto.

The Board of Assistant Aldermen met yesterday.

The new ordinance in relation to hacks was received and referred to the Committee on Laws and Ordinances.

A resolution presented by Assistant Alderman Robinson—"That a special committee of five members of this Board be appointed to draft and report an ordinance to define and regulate the use of the streets, avenues, roads and public places of this city for the purpose of public processions other than funeral corteges and pageantry other than of military organized in pursuance of the laws of this State"—was referred to a special committee consisting of Assistant Aldermen Robinson, Pecher, Barker, Littlefield and Hampson.

It was resolved to authorize the Comptroller to draw his warrant in favor of John H. Williams, David V. Freeman and Martin Nachtman, Excise Commissioners, for the sum of $2,500 each, for compensation for services rendered as such Commissioners.

About half a dozen resolutions to reimburse as many persons for the loss of as many horses who came to untimely ends through stumbling into all sorts of holes, or off docks, under all sorts of imaginable circumstances, were passed.

The resolution to pave 114th street from Fourth avenue to Harlem River with Burgess' patent cement pavement, which had been vetoed by the Mayor, was passed over the veto. The Board of Aldermen had previously taken the same action. The Board then adjourned.

THE LINCOLN MONUMENT ASSOCIATION.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 20, 1871.

The Lincoln Monument Association held a meeting yesterday to ascertain their financial condition. It was found that they could pay for the monument as it is—the bronze statue of Mr. Lincoln—and for grading the grounds. This will leave the four groups of statuary contemplated in the original design unprovided for. The purpose of the association has been to build just so far as they could pay for the work. They have done so, and are now out of debt. The groups of statuary will cost $50,000, and will be bought if the money can be raised.

ANOTHER FATAL KEROSENE BURNING CASUALTY.

Coroner Keenan was yesterday informed of the death of Mrs. Maria Gleason, a woman thirty years of age, late of 131st street and Broadway. On Tuesday last Mrs. Gleason was engaged in filling a kerosene oil lamp, when she accidentally set the table cover on fire. Quite thoughtlessly she caught up her dress to smother the flames, when she set her clothes on fire, burning her terribly all over the body, death being the result. An inquest will be held over the remains. Mrs. Gleason was a native of Ireland.

LAURA D. FAIR.

She Tells the Story of Her Past Life.

Her Appeal to the Press to be Let Alone.

TO THE PUBLIC:—I make the following statement, with proof attached in support of the same, with the view to correct certain false and wicked reports that have been circulated by designing persons against me, and which, for the sake of my fatherless and, perhaps, soon to be motherless, child, I feel it a duty to make. I have

A STRONG CONVICTION

in my own mind that right will ultimately triumph in my case and that the Supreme Court of this State will, by its adjudication, place me once more where I stood before my trial, and where I can again be heard in defence of my conduct before a jury of my countrymen, who are true, honest and just, bearing no hatred and malice whatever toward a poor woman who has never done them harm. In this, my statement, I shall give names and dates as nearly as I can remember them, and if, by accident, I should make any mistakes, then those referred to can correct them; but, I trust, they will have no occasion so to do. It has been publicly charged against me that was to a wealthy old man, whose wealth was squandered by me after his decease. The name of my first husband was William H. Stone, who was about thirty-six years of age at the time I married him, I being a young and thoughtless girl only sixteen years of age. I was married to him at the request of my father. We were married in New Orleans, where Mr. Stone lived, being one of the commission house and wholesale liquor store of H. L. Stone & Co. Mr. Stone died in about one year after my marriage to him, and left me without a farthing, although I have no doubt his estate was worth money. As proof that I have never received anything from Mr. Stone's estate I refer the public to

MY FIRST MARRIAGE

A LETTER FROM H. L. STONE

to me, written since I have become involved in this difficulty, which letter reads as follows:—

NEW ORLEANS, March 6, 1871.

MRS. LAURA FAIR—I am informed that you are my cousin Laura, formerly Laura Stone, from whom I have not heard for many years. I regret to learn that you are in trouble and suppose you will need all your resources to get out of it. I once wrote you that if I could save anything for you from the estate of W. H. Stone I would do so. He left nothing at his death except an interest of one-third in twelve hundred acres of land in Texas. Mr. Roberts and myself own the other two-thirds. It cost twenty-five cents per acre. I think it will now sell for fifty cents per acre, or $600 for the whole. This would be $200 for his estate, which, by law, would be de divided between you and his mother—$100 to each. She will take $100 for her portion. Presuming you will do the same, I have caused an act of sale to be prepared, which will be forwarded to you through the house of R. C. Dunn & Co., of your city. On signing that act of sale they will pay you $100. I shall have to be at some expense to sell the land at fifty cents per acre, and may have to keep it some time longer; but for the purpose of getting control of it, so that I can sell it when I have a chance, I am willing to take it at the price. Please write me a good long letter. Tell me all about your troubles. I fully sympathize with you, and hope the Lord will show you the way out of them speedily. Yours truly,

H. L. STONE.

Direct to care of John A. Roberts, box 843, New Orleans.

After Mr. Stone's death I entered the Convent of the Visitation, at Mobile, under my maiden name, there to finish my education. I had no money or any means, and my mother paid my expenses there out of the small means left her by my father. I left the Convent in June, 1856, and returned to New Orleans, where I met a person I had formerly known in that city, and being without money or friends who could assist me, I married him in the month of August, 1856. He proved to be a bad man and a terrible drunkard, and he became so hopelessly lost I was obliged to leave him; and in January, 1857, leaving him there, I came with my mother and brother to San Francisco. He demanded that I should return to him, but I positively refused, and he applied for a divorce upon the ground of desertion, and none other. He employed an attorney by the name of D. W. Hennen, then of New Orleans, but now of New York city, and William Hunt, of New Orleans, acted for me. In February, 1858, a decree was granted divorcing him from bed and board—the law of that State requiring one year to elapse before a divorce could be entered from the bonds of matrimony, or what was called a final divorce. I became acquainted with

THOMAS J. GRAYSON,

COLONEL WILLIAM D. FAIR,

who was a lawyer in this city, and put the matter in his hands as my attorney. Prior to this I had advised with Governor Foote in relation to the same matters. In 1859 Colonel Fair, as my attorney, advised me that the final divorce had been granted; and, after being assured it was so, I married Colonel Fair. We were married in the town of Shasta, and soon after left for Yreka, where Colonel Fair was then settled in business. It was here that was born, in the month of August, 1860. Judge Baggs is now living in this city and knows of our marriage, and knows also that Colonel Fair was poor then, and always was poor. I did not marry Colonel Fair for money, and there is no truth in the base charge made against me that I was extravagant and impoverished him. I append to the end of this statement the affidavit of Judge Baggs, sustaining me fully on these points. I did all my own work when we kept house in Yreka and kept no servants. Every person who lived in Yreka at the time we lived there will bear me witness of the truth of what I say. Colonel Fair lived only three months after we left Yreka. In October of the year 1861 Colonel Fair made his arrangements to move to San Francisco, and sent me and my child in advance, while he remained to close up his business, expecting soon to follow, and on the 1st of December of the same year he came down and settled here. I was stopping with my mother in a house she had rented from Dr. Hitchcock, on Bush street, where the Brooklyn Hotel now stands. Colonel Fair came immediately to the house and we lived there together

MY ONLY CHILD

IN PEACE AND QUIETNESS

till he died. He sent his books and other things to Dr. Murphy's office and took an office there with him until he could get one. It has been cruelly reported that Colonel Fair was jealous of me and that we had separated before his death. This is and has in it no truth. On the morning of his death he left the house as usual and went to his office. Soon after Dr. Hitchcock called to see him, and was told by me that he was at his office. He went to his office and in attempting to open the door found something heavy against it, and pushing it open found that the obstruction was the dead body of Colonel Fair. He had been shot through the head with a pistol ball, and the world said he had committed suicide. Dr. Hitchcock came immediately to our house and informed me of his death. Colonel Phelps left Colonel Fair but a few minutes before his death in Dr. Murphy's office, near the corner of Montgomery and Washington streets. Dr. Murphy told my mother and myself, the same morning of his death, that Colonel Fair had left a letter with him, in which he stated that his wife and family had nothing whatever to do in causing his death. Dr. Murphy was requested afterward to produce the letter, as the papers were accusing me of the cause of his death, This request was made at different times, and I have begged of him to produce it, but he will not.

THERE IS NO SCANDAL

that the ingenuity of man can devise but what has been raised against me and circulated with the rapidity of lightning since this unfortunate affair of mine with Mr. Crittenden. It has been said that Colonel Fair was Sheriff of Siskiyou county and that he absconded with a large sum of money belonging to the county, and that I, his wife, ran away with a man by the name of Gordon. Now, there was a man by the name of Fair Sheriff of that county, and he is reported to have absconded, but whether he had a wife or not I am unable to say, or whether a man by the name of Gordon ran away with her. His name was Samuel Fair, but in no way was he connected with my husband: and as for Gordon, I never saw him. It has been stated that in the Tahoe House, in Virginia City, for attempting to raise the American flag over my house, and that Mr. Crittenden defended me. Also that I walked the streets of that city with a Confederate flag in one hand and a pistol in the other. All this is false, and one of the meanest things ever uttered. There was falsehood enough uttered against me on my trial, under the solemnity of an oath, to crush a dozen mortals like me, without resorting to wholesale mendacity like this. This is all a malicious manufacture. In the first place, I never had a partner in business nor in the Tahoe House. I never had a Confederate flag, and never saw one. I never walked the streets of Virginia City with a pistol in my hand or a flag of any kind, or the streets of any city with either. I kept the Tahoe House in Virginia City, and kept it alone. About Christmas of 1863 a man engaged in the toy business kept a store under my house. He placed a large Christmas tree, covered with dolls, drums, flags, fifes and other articles belonging to a toy store, upon my balcony; my boarders complained of the obstruction; I then requested the toy merchant to take it away and put it upon his own premises; he refused and said he had a right to put it there, when I called my brother, O. D. Hunt, who was then acting as my clerk, and had been for some time, to come and cut it down, which he did. Some of my friends came and told me that the crowd outside misunderstood my motive in removing the tree and supposed it was on account of the flags which were upon it. I at once stepped to the front of the balcony and explained the case to them; adding, to remove all doubt about it, any gentleman among them who so desired had my full permission to place a flag upon my house, and I think some one did do so. The toy merchant also sent his clerk to raise a flag over my house, to which I objected, as he had not treated me like a gentleman; but he persisted, whereupon I asked the loan of a pocket knife from a Mr. Walters, and attempted to cut the rope, for which act the toy man brought a suit against me which resulted in a verdict against him, and being tried for the act of aggression was fined $75.

I SHOT MY PARTNER

And now a few words I wish to submit to the public about it is alleged was given me by Mr. Crittenden. I kept the Tahoe House thirteen months, and after paying all my debts and $15,000 on a house on A street, which I furnished with my own money except two rooms furnished by Mr. Crittenden, I had left over six thousand dollars. The Tahoe House contained thirty-seven rooms, thirty-one of which were rented, bringing in each night over fifty dollars. I invested in Savage stock, which I purchased for sums varying from $700 to $1,100 per foot. I sold it in 1867 for $4,000 per foot, having ten feet, and purchased other stock, and made all the money I ever had in the way and manner above indicated.

For the truth of this I most respectfully refer to Mr. Ned Eyre and Mr. Bradford, who were then my brokers, and also Mr. Burling. Mr. Eyre purchased and sold for me other mining stock after I sold my Savage, and in all these transactions I made money.

MR. RALSTON,

of the Bank of California, knows that Mr. Crittenden never paid a dollar for me on any note, or for any stock, and any who doubt my statement can call upon these gentlemen for information. I am in no way or manner indebted to Mr. Crittenden for any of the money I ever had or the little I now possess. When Colonel Fair died I had never seen or known Mr. Crittenden. He sought me and found me and would not let me go. I married to avoid Mr. Crittenden, and, as his own letters prove, he would not then leave me. All the force and power of the San Francisco bar were and are to-day my enemies, because a brother lawyer had been killed by me in a moment of unconsciousness, and, as my God knows, of irresponsibility. Every effort of my attorneys, made in my behalf on trial, were treated as idle chattering, or at least it appeared so to me, and those who sought my blood drank of it to their fill. If there is a just God who rules and directs the judgments of men I shall live to satisfy the world that I have been, to say the least of it, greatly wronged. There is one other matter to which I wish to refer.

IN THE SPRING OF 1862

I leased and furnished a house on Mission street, in this city. It was between Second and Third streets. I purchased my furniture on credit. I kept a boarding and lodging house. The Legislature of the State were in session here, having been driven out by the flood at Sacramento. Among my tenants were Messrs. Wilcox, Pemberton, Tompkins and others, members of the Legislature. After the Legislature adjourned I had a vacant house and had not yet paid for my furniture. I was obliged to seek aid, and as my husband, Colonel Fair, was a prominent Mason when alive, I made for assistance. Walter Tompkins conveyed the application to Mr. Laidley, and he to the proper authority. In response to my application a committee composed of Alexander G. Abell and two others called on me and were shown through my house and saw my poverty and acknowledged it. My relief was embraced in the following language, addressed to me, by one of that committee:—"Well, Mrs. Fair, a woman with such a pretty face ought to be able to support herself without applying to the Masons."

APPLICATION TO THE MASONIC ORDER

When on my trial I was allowed to go with George Knox, Judge Quint accompanying, to see Mr. Abell for the purpose of his identifying me as the party he had called upon. But he refused to see me.

Of the thousand and one things charged to me and my dishonor, since my conviction. I can only add they are pure inventions and all false. I desire that the newspapers will leave me alone. I ask the charity of their silence. Let me settle my troubles with the legal tribunals where I now am, and where I expect to find exact justice.

LAURA D. FAIR.

POPULAR EDUCATION.

Graduating Exercises at Grammar School No. 1.

An entertainment, mostly musical, was given yesterday by the pupils of Grammar School No. 1, on the occasion of the graduation of eleven young ladies. Among the visitors present were Mr. Kiddle, the City Superintendent; Judge Van Vorst, Commissioner of the Department of Public Instruction, and Mr. Hunter, President of the Normal College. After some excellent vocal and instrumental music, under the direction of Mr. Rexford, and two or three well spoken dialogues, Judge Van Vorst addressed the school. He spoke in the highest terms of the Principal, Miss Mary J. O'Leary, saying that he had heard so much of the efficient management of No. 1 that he had long wished to visit it. He believed that Mr. Hunter had been trying to prevail upon Miss O'Leary to accept the professorship of Latin in the Normal College, but he was glad that she preferred her present position.

Mr. Van Vorst was followed by Mr. Kiddle, the City Superintendent. He felt a deep interest in the school as he begun his work as a teacher there thirty-four years ago. In many respects he considered it the most interesting school in the city, or even on the Continent. Only three-quarters of a century ago it was a little school, where a few outcasts were gathered by charity, and from it had sprung the great system of public education. Now nearly one hundred thousand boys and girls attend school in New York city, and there are over two hundred public schools. No. 1 has had a good report all the way. It is one of the most efficient schools in the city of New York.

MR. VAN VORST was glad that most of the exercises were musical. He believed that music was one of the most valuable of educational agencies.

MR. HUNTER, of the Normal College, expressed great pleasure in visiting No. 1. In examining competitors for entrance to the college he had found that this school ranked exceedingly high.

After many more pleasant things were said of Miss O'Leary, the Vice Principal, Miss Fitzgibbon, the grade teachers and the pupils, the exercises closed with the distribution of prizes and a valedictory essay. A beautiful basket of flowers was presented to the Principal by the girls of the first class. The names of the graduates are as follows:—Mary Agnes Dunn, Kate Deaken, Ellie Hurley, Mary Sullivan, Lizzie Crowe, Lena Kinnear, Kate Taggart, Delia O'Connell, Lucy Buckley, Susan Dewitt, Angelina Simons.

Grammar School No. 20.

A large number of the friends of Grammar School No. 20 were in attendance yesterday at the distribution of the semi-annual certificates. The exercises were very interesting and very creditable to both teachers and pupils.

CONTESTED CLAIMS.

"A Rod in Pickle" for the Board of Education—One of the Results of a Complicated School System.

Old debts or unsatisfied claims, as a general rule, are not the very best foundations in the world to build big or little fortunes upon, but the little crowd of earnest talkers who assembled last evening at Masonic Hall seemed to think quite otherwise. The fact is that debts and claims are mighty good things, when the debts belong on the side of the house in which the "pushers" of unsatisfied claims have

AN ALL ABIDING INTEREST,

if not a permanent location. The little crowd at the Hall last evening were claimants for payment for work done for the Board of Education, and they understood this pretty well, judging from the way they intend to go to work to get their money. All the debts they had any talk about were, in their view of the case, owed by the Board. Hence their abiding interest in the Board. The whole story of the meeting is just this:—The men claim that the Board owes seventy-five men about $19,000 for work done to school houses in various ways, such as repairing, plumbing, &c. The greater number, it appears, worked for contractors, who were employed by the local Board of Trustees, and many of them were employed directly by the trustees themselves. When their bills were sent in for payment, they say, the treasurer couldn't accommodate them, and told them flatly the Board didn't owe them any money—

NOT A RED.

"Why not?" they exclaimed, "haven't we done our work well?" "Oh yes, that may be," was the reply, "but that doesn't show anything, does it? The work done was done by order of local boards for the most part, and there is no money appropriated to pay for it."

Thus the case stands at present, but the gentlemen who held the meeting last evening say they mean business, and are not going to give up the ghost without kicking pretty lively against the pricks. One of them remarked that one of the Commissioners had told him that the money wouldn't be paid short of a lawsuit, and, said this claimant, as he took his seat, "If we can make common cause in a case well and good, if not, why I'm 'goin to go it alone any how." The meeting finally resolved that a claimant from each ward in which there was a claimant should make it his duty to hunt up all other claimants in the ward he could find, and that then the Board of Education would hear from the party of the first part. A committee was appointed to carry out the programme. Will the Board squirm?

FUNERAL OF THE LATE C. V. S. ROOSEVELT.

The funeral of the late C. V. S. Roosevelt was held at his late residence, corner of Broadway and Fourteenth street, yesterday morning. It was attended by nearly two hundred and fifty persons, including a large number of prominent citizens. Among those present were ex-Judge Charles P. Kirkland, Rev. Dr. Muhlenberg, Judge C. P. Daly, A. T. Stewart, Samuel B. Ruggles, John C. Green, James Brown, James W. Gerard, John M. Knox, Erastus C. Benedict, Adam Norrie, Francis Mahan, Joel Wolfe, J. F. Schenck, John McKesson, Paul N. Spofford and ex-Judge Hilton. There were also present a large number of persons employed in the establishment of Roosevelt & Son, and all of Mr. Roosevelt's near relatives.

The remains were enclosed in an elegant rosewood casket, richly mounted with silver, open so as to expose the face and the upper part of the body. The plate bore the following inscription:—

C. V. S. ROOSEVELT.
Born January 30, 1794.
Died July 17, 1871.

The services were conducted by the Rev. Drs. Chambers and Ormiston, of the Collegiate Reformed Church. Dr. Chambers read the funeral service and delivered the address, and Dr. Ormiston closed the exercises with prayer. At the close of the services a procession, composed of the near relatives and friends of Mr. Roosevelt, followed the remains to Greenwood, where the body will be interred in the family vault. There were no pall bearers.

SCHUETZENFEST.

CLOSING DAY OF THE SPORTS.

The Rollicking Riflemen Crowning Their King—Fun and Frivolity—Good Sport and Good Shooting—The Award of Prizes.

The German shooting host, which experienced such a signal defeat on Wednesday last from an ill-conditioned clerk of the weather, yesterday took ample revenge under the protecting smiles of Jolly Old Sol. With characteristic constancy the square-headed Dutchmen resolved that they would not allow a wet morning to rob them of all the pleasure they had promised themselves in exhibiting their by no means poor skill in rifle shooting to

THE ADMIRING EYES

of their lady friends, and the doughty captains swore, mildly, of course, that if it rained for a week the Schuetzen corps would hold out till the last keg of lager in the "wood" was exhausted, or they would have a jolly winding up day. No doubt this terrible swear influenced the clerk of the weather mightily, for though he seemed inclined to frown and play dirty pranks in the early morning, his better sense, if not better feeling, caused him to relent, and the bright, warm sun came out full of the pleasantest smiles and looked down benignantly upon the children of the German land, as plainly they assembled with under the trees of the pleasant wood. Soon the shadows cleared from the Teuton brow and friends congratulated each other on the prospect of a pleasant day.

HALF DOUBTING HEARTS

As the day wore on members of the corps, with their families and their friends, began to arrive in considerable numbers, and by one o'clock P. M. the grounds about the stands were pretty well filled with gayly-dressed German women, who looked the picture of contentment and prosperity. The lightness and ariness of their dresses displaying with all the force of contrast

THE BUXOM SOLIDITY OF THEIR FORMS.

Truly it was a gratifying spectacle for a German eye, and the solid, impressive looking men that strutted round the grounds in all the glory of forest green, with romantic looking slouched hats and feathers, which were in amusing contrast to the somewhat every-day-looking faces beneath, seemed to chuckle at the contemplation of the beautiful forms of their decidedly better halves. However, the great feature of the assemblage was that every one seemed to be supremely happy in a dull, matter-of-fact kind of way, which of itself was not without its interest to the outside observers.

One figure deserves especial mention, for it moved about a self-satisfied pillar of ostentatiously quiet enjoyment. The captain of the Schuetzens was a happy man or he must be

THE BEST ACTOR IN NEW YORK.

It needed not to recall Delsarte's lectures on expression to know what was within the captain's breast. On his face beamed an expression which said in the largest capitals—"Sir, I am happy!" The broad, good-natured face conveyed this and nothing else to the beholder, and when the captain put himself in awful state at the head of his merry men and commanded, "Forward, march!" Cæsar or old Nap himself could not look more imposing or important.

The great event of the festival is the shooting at the eagle, and, according to certain rules laid down, the value of every shot striking the bird is estimated according to where it is struck. When the riflemen have shot the greater part of the eagle away, and only a small portion remains, and the man who shoots the last vestige away is crowned king, which is a great honor, as he takes the first prize and receives the badge as the best shot.

THE CONTEST BECOMES EXCITING,

When the eagle had fallen and the rifle contest had closed the captain formed his men in two ranks, and, with the band at their head, marched through the grounds, and, gallantly mounting the steps leading to the ballroom, led his men in triumphal march round about, to the discomfiture of at least four score couples who were treading in the mazy dance and the dismay of the fiddlers who had been playing for them, but who were obliged to hide their diminished heads in the presence of these

RESURRECTED ROBIN HOODS.

Having marched up this hill, in imitation of another mighty monarch, our valiant captain and his shooting men marched down again, and the exercise leaving evident traces upon the rotund forms of the men in green, the captain prudently called a halt and dressed his men, not to meet the battle's shock, but only to listen to a very short address from himself, after which the jolly shooters nearly exhausted what breath they had left in giving the captain a rousing but somewhat

BROKEN-WINDED CHEER.

A grave suspicion haunts the mind of the HERALD reporter that the speech was in some way connected with lager; for he observed that when any approach to enthusiasm was manifested during the day it was always in connection with that charming beverage. However, as he was completely outflanked by the unexpected march down the hill, the reporter won't vouch for what the gallant captain said.

The dismissal of the shooters left every one to pursue the bent of his or her inclination for an hour or two before the important ceremony of

would take place. And so each one did just as he listed. In spite of the heat of the day there were quite a number of young people, whose consciences allowed them to go on dancing at a surprising rate, and this form of amusement was kept up with vigor late into the evening. For less enterprising people a large puppet show had been erected, and for two mortal hours hundreds of people remained out under a broiling sun to be delighted by

THE VAGARIES OF A PUNCH AND JUDY SHOW.

Nothing could exceed the pleasure which the audience derived from the mishaps and wallopings of the puppets, and the HERALD reporter experienced a sense of relief when the performance came to an end; for he had begun to fear lest some of the plethoric Dutchmen should die from apoplexy, so much were they agitated by this poor amusement.

The next event on the programme was the crowning of the king, appointed to take place at the foot of the hill, on a platform raised specially for the occasion, and as soon as on the puppet stage the people began to congregate in front of the platform. Some delay, however, was occasioned in collecting the scattered members of the Schuetzen corps and marshalling them for the grand ceremony. At last they came on, with the band in front, and formed a semi-circle in front of the platform, which was occupied by a number of young girls and the successful competitors, with the captain presiding. After a few words of explanation from the captain a pretty German girl came forward and recited at length a German poem in praise of the Schuetzen corps in general and the one on the ground in particular, which the bashful gentlemen accepted in good part.

At the conclusion of this very long glorification of the shooters the young lady fastened on the breast of the victor and the people cheered him vigorously. As the spirit seemed to move him he returned thanks in a few short, sturdy phrases, and seemed very well satisfied with himself and the world. No German celebration would be complete without a song, and the inevitable Choral Union intoned a "lied" suitable to the occasion. The remaining prizes were then awarded to the following successful marksmen:—

THE KINGLY BADGE

First prize—King, George Aery.
Second prize—Middle crown, H. Kappenberg.
Third prize—Right wing, Schuetzen Corps.
Fourth prize—Left wing, Secretary Tienken.
Fifth prize—Sceptre, Henry Rubien.
Sixth prize—Golden apple, Schuetzen Corps.
Seventh prize—Right crown, Schuetzen Corps.
Eighth prize—Left crown, Wm. Lemcke.
Ninth prize—Right ring, Schuetzen Corps.
Tenth prize—Left ring, Fred Steinhoff.
Eleventh prize—Tail, Henry L. Meyer.
Twelfth prize—Right head, Hermann Jurgens.
Thirteenth prize—Left head, Henry Morriso.
Fourteenth prize—Right leg, Hermann Backran.
Fifteenth prize—Left leg, Henry Brummerhop.
Sixteenth prize—Right thigh, Diedrich Marken.
Seventeenth prize—Left thigh, George Werhan.
Eighteenth prize—Right neck, Aaron Browning.
Nineteenth prize—Left neck, H. L. Meyer.
Twentieth prize—Right flag, J. C. F. Deecken.
Twenty-first prize—Left flag, Charles Pirorano.

When the distribution was completed the shooters were dismissed, and scattered about the grounds to enjoy themselves according to their bent, and as the shades of evening fell and the spirit of lager began to make itself felt the fun became more uproarious, and the HERALD reporter left the Shuetzen corps and their gallant captains entering with greater zest than ever on the enjoyment of the festival.

NEW BRUNSWICK'S POLITICAL PUZZLE.

Democrats Stealing a March on the Republicans.

New Brunswick, one of Jersey's ancient little cities, is busy just now solving a political puzzle. A couple of weeks ago the Sheriff of the county, a worthy named Farr, shuffled off this mortal coil. Heretofore it has been the custom to allow the incumbent of the shrievalty to remain in office for three years, although constitutionally he was elected for only one. Mr. Farr had served but half his time. He was a republican, and the republicans claimed that the balance of his term belonged to the party. The democrats, on the other hand, claim that the office belongs to the man and not to the party. A few days ago the republicans met in convention and nominated one Dr. Harned for the position. Yesterday the democrats convened and stole a complete march in public opinion on their opponents by nominating for the vacancy Mr. Elias Snediker, son-in-law of the deceased Sheriff, and the sole support of the bereaved family.

THE ERIE RAILWAY WAR.

The Motion to Restrain Erie from Issuing More Shares.

CLOSE OF THE ARGUMENT.

THE DECISION RESERVED.

Yesterday the argument in the United States Circuit Court, before Judge Blatchford, on the motion on the part of Heath and Raphael to restrain the Erie Railway Company and Jay Gould from issuing 30,000 shares of Erie stock, was resumed.

Mr. David Dudley Field, Mr. Beach and Mr. Sherman appeared on behalf of the Erie Railway Company, and Mr. Southmayd and Mr. Hoar, ex-Attorney General of the United States, represented the English shareholders.

ARGUMENT OF MR. DAVID DUDLEY FIELD.

Mr. Field submitted that the bill was one of an anomalous character. It was neither original nor supplemental. It referred to the allegations of an independent bill "as if the allegations of that bill of complaint were incorporated with this bill," but without quoting them, while its main purpose was to prevent the defendant Gould from complying with an order not yet entered in a third suit pending in this Court. The gravamen of the bill may be thus stated:—The Executive Committee of the Erie Railway Company have issued 30,000 new shares in a manner supposed to be not warranted by law; but the same had been recognized by the company and had passed into the hands of bona fide holders for value, who were not parties to the suit. These shares had also been registered with the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, but 30,000 other shares of good stock in the hands of the receiver have not been registered. They might have been registered had not the old certificates for which they were substituted been surrendered in order to obtain the registration of the 30,000 new shares. Therefore, as the new shares, though spurious, had been registered and made good, the 30,000 good shares in the receiver's hands should be made bad and denied the privilege of registry. Such was the logic of the application, and such, substantially, the statement of facts on which it was made. It only asked a declaration that the 30,000 new shares were illegal and wrongful, and that "while the certificates remained in the hands of Jay Gould, and before the same were sold and disposed of by him, were illegal and spurious," and then asked for an injunction against a registration. Now, as the bill informed them that these shares had been sold and disposed of and the certificates had gone into the hands of numerous bona fide purchasers, the declaration would be a mere brutum fulmen, and the bill remained as a mere bill for an injunction against registration.

Counsel then submitted several points for the consideration of the Court. He contended that the bill could not be sustained in any of the positions it took. It should have been framed as a supplement to the original bill of Heath and others, now pending in this Court. It was not framed in that manner, nor was it framed for any independent purpose. It was merely auxiliary, and must fall if the two prior suits or proceedings fall. If the bill were properly framed as an independent proceeding it must fall, because this Court had no power over the internal affairs of State corporations, nor, indeed, any power, except as a court of equity. It had no power to determine who were or who were not corporators of the city of New York or corporators of the Bank of England. Its sole power was over the defendants as trustees in the management of their trust. It could not entertain a suit to determine whether the 30,000 shares of stock issued in December, 1870, were or were not lawfully issued. If the Court had power to determine the question of the legality of the issue of the 30,000 shares of new stock it should not do so upon the present bill, because the necessary allegations were wanting and the bill did not pray for such relief. Under this bill it would be impossible to order either the 30,000 shares issued in December, 1870, and January, 1871, or those in the hands of Mr. Coleman to be withdrawn and cancelled. The necessary parties were wanting to the bill. Neither the holders of the 30,000 shares nor Mr. Coleman was before the Court. As no judgment could be rendered in this suit affecting their rights, so neither can any injunction be issued having the like effect. If the Court could not interfere with the ownership or legality of the 30,000 shares it could not interfere with any incident of such ownership. The privilege of registration was too vague and evanescent to be the basis of a bill in equity. It was not a right, but a mere favor dependent entirely upon the joint consent of the managing body of the corporation and of the Stock Exchange. It could be given or withheld at pleasure by either of those bodies. The registration with a third party was a purely voluntary arrangement of the company made without consideration for the convenience of speculators in its stock—one which the company might withdraw or change at its pleasure—and, therefore, one which a stockholder acquires no right either to enforce or restrain. Suppose the company had been in the habit of printing its certificates on yellow paper, and the Stock Exchange would deal in no other certificates than the yellow ones, would the stockholders have the right to require the company to use the yellow paper for all time to come? Considered as a precaution against over-issue, the company might take it or not as it pleased, and the Court could not control the exercise of its discretion in that respect. The thirty thousand new shares issued in December, 1870, and January, 1871, were a part of the capital stock of the company. This point the bill appeared to admit and then to deny; but whether it admitted or denied the fact, the law made these shares a part of the capital stock. The company had power under the tenth subdivision of the General Railroad act of New York to issue convertible bonds for the completing, finishing or operating of their railroad. This point had been adjudged in the Supreme Court of New York in the case of Belmont vs. The Erie Company, 52 Barbour, 671, and Jenks vs. The New York Central Railroad, referred to in the first named case. It was stated in the bill that convertible bonds upon which the stock had been issued were a mere sham and pretence, got up for the purpose of manufacturing and issuing upon the pretended basis thereof, spurious and fraudulent, 30,000 new shares. The answer to that was the particulars specified did not meet the general allegations, and the general allegations were fully met by the affidavits which had been read in answer to the motion. The bill showed a resolution of the Board of Directors of the Erie company, passed in 1868, authorizing the Executive Committee to issue convertible bonds. Counsel contended that this was a continuing authority. The board was advised by counsel, and among others by counsel for the plaintiff in the present case. The bill set forth subsequent resolutions of the Board of Directors, ratifying the action of the Executive Committee. There was, therefore, both previous authority for and subsequent ratification of the action of the Executive Committee in authorizing the issue of the convertible bonds. Then it was objected that these convertible bonds were not issued for money borrowed, but were sold to Mr. Gould and were converted into stock on the day of their issue or the day after, and were actually converted before any money was received on them, and were not issued with intent to "negotiate or keep the same alive as bonds," all which circumstances, if made out, would not, counsel contended, invalidate the bonds. The statute expressly authorized the company to issue and dispose of their bonds for any amount so borrowed, that they might sell the bonds to repay borrowed money. After commenting upon other features of the case with his usual force and ability, Mr. Field concluded his argument by stating to the Court that he thought he had shown sufficient, cogent reasons why the motion for an injunction should be refused.

ARGUMENT OF MR. HOAR.

Mr. Hoar closed the argument, on the whole case, on behalf of the English stockholders. He did not speak for more than ten or fifteen minutes, thus relieving the Court, so far as he could, from listening to a discussion now become very dull and excessively tedious. The learned gentleman simply contented himself with a denial of the propositions contained in the argument of Mr. Field. He contended that, if the injunction prayed for in the bill in equity was not granted by the Court, Fisk, Gould and the Erie Railway Company would attain all the ends they desired to accomplish in connection with the management of the Erie Railway Company, and deprive the English shareholders of their just rights in the premises.

Judge Blatchford, who had listened to the argument with his usual patience and attention, then took the papers, which are of a voluminous character, and reserved his decision. The decision may be expected on or before the 29th instant, as upon that date Erie may issue the shares in question if there be no legal interference with them.

THE AUTHORITY OF UNITED STATES DEPUTY MARSHALS.

Some time since Marshal Sharpe sent one of his deputies, named Patrick Farrell, to watch a canal boat on the Jersey shore. The boat had been libelled in the United States District Court for the Southern district of New York. Farrell was arrested on a warrant issued by Justice Green, of Jersey City, charging him with stealing the boat. Counsel for Marshal Sharpe, having heard of the matter, proceeded to Jersey City, and sued out before Judge Nixon a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of Farrell, who was subsequently discharged, it appearing to the Judge that the jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Southern district of New York extended over the waters of the Hudson to high water mark on the Jersey side, and that, therefore, Justice Green had no authority, under the circumstances, to interfere with a United States officer in the place in question in the discharge of his duty, even assuming that the man had been guilty of stealing.

THE COURTS.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.

Condemnations.

Before Judge Blatchford.

The following goods were condemned by default:—Six barrels distilled spirits found at pier 33 North River; five barrels distilled spirits found at 77 and 79 Beach street, New York city—both for want of proper stamps.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS.

After an Increase of Alimony.

Before Judge Cardozo.

Maria Gallinger vs. Simon Gallinger.—A motion was made to set aside the report of the referee on the ground of insufficient alimony being allowed the plaintiff, the same being $7 a week. It was claimed that the defendant's income was several thousand dollars a year, and that he could afford to pay a much larger sum. For the defendant it was insisted that his income was only $1,100 a year. After hearing the argument the Judge took the papers, reserving his decision.

Decisions.

Wilson et al. vs. Bachman.—Motion denied.

Tucker vs. Livingston.—Motion granted.

Burchell vs. Stone et al.—Same.

Eugenie Lindsay vs. Theodore F. Linday.—Report confirmed, &c.

COMMON PLEAS—SPECIAL TERM.

Before Judge Larremore.

The following decisions were rendered yesterday:—

William Laidlaw vs. William Gilmore et al.—Complaint dismissed.

Henry Ellis vs. William Gilmore et al.—Complaint dismissed.

SUPERIOR COURT—SPECIAL TERM.

Decisions.

By Judge Freedman.

James E. Ward et al. vs. John Tine et al.—Case settled, and the clerk is hereby directed to file and annex the same to the judgment role.

George R. Newcomb et al. vs. James Lahey.—Motion granted, with ten dollars cost.

John McGuire vs. Joseph Ross.—Order granted.

COURT CALENDAR—THIS DAY.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS—Held by Judge Cardozo.—Nos. 3, 23, 24, 28, 39, 44, 58, 59, 82, 86, 91, 92, 93, 96, 104.

BROOKLYN COURTS.

Business in the United States Court.

The criminal and common law business in this Court during the past year has considerably increased over what it was in 1869. The following table shows all that has been done in these branches:—

Common law actions, 251; actions for forfeiture of property under the revenue laws, 74; actions for penalties and forfeitures against vessels under the customs, 27; criminal actions on indictments, 41. Total, 393. Number of criminal proceedings before the United States Commissioners, 178.

Common law actions, 216; actions for forfeiture, 81; against vessels under the customs laws, 31; criminal actions on indictments, 13. Total, 343.

Value of property involved in actions, determined in favor of the United States, $140,574; amount of judgment in common law actions obtained in favor of the United States, $159,320; verdicts obtained for the United States in actions not finally settled, $62,170. Total, $362,064.

Added to this table as part of the regular business of the Court, Admiralty cases involving on an average over $80,000 a month; but, as these are of a civil character, they do not come especially under the head of United States business.

Of the thirteen "criminal indictments" half a dozen were for illicit distilling, four for counterfeiting or passing counterfeit currency, two for perjury and one for smuggling.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC DOCKS.

Opening of Bids for the Use of East and North River Wharves—The Financial Condition of the Department.

The Board of Public Docks held a regular meeting yesterday afternoon, President Agnew in the chair; present, Commissioners Wood and Hunt.

The only business of any importance transacted after the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting was the opening of the bids made in answer to the advertisement of the Board last June in relation to the leasing and renting of certain bulkheads and wharves which the department were not using. Owing to the absence of two of the Commissioners the awards were not made to the successful bidders, and by resolution of Commissioner Wood the subject was referred to the Executive Committee, who will make their report next Monday. The bids were opened one by one and announced after being entered as follows:—

Patrick Duncan, for pier foot of 125th street, Harlem River, per annum, $300.

Thomas C. Holland, for pier foot of Twenty-sixth street, per annum, $1,000.

Leander Stone, Fifty-third street pier, East River, $350.

T. C. Hubbard, bulkhead between Twenty-third street and Twenty-fourth street, East River, $800, and pier Twenty-third street, East River, $2,000.

James Johnston, bulkhead foot of Forty-ninth street, East River, $225.

L. Gildersleeve, pier foot of Twenty-third street, East River, $1,501; pier and bulkhead foot of Eighty-sixth street, East River, $601.

EMIGRATION AFFAIRS.

Meeting of the Board of Commissioners.

A meeting of this Commission was held in the Board room at Castle Garden yesterday afternoon. There were present Commissioners O'Gorman (in the chair), Barr, Husted, Frear, Halleck, Bell, Lynch and Willmann. The report of the Committee for Repairs, which was of the usual routine character, was adopted.

On the motion of Mr. FREAR it was resolved that the appointment of General Superintendent and Actuary, Deputy Superintendent, Treasurer, Medical Officer, Warden of Ward's Island and all other officers shall be made by the full Board.

Commissioner Nicholson, who has left for Europe, desired to resign his position temporarily as chairman of the Finance Committee. The temporary resignation was accepted, and on the motion of the President Mr. Husted was appointed chairman.

The proposed amendment of Commissioner Wallach was laid over until the next meeting of the Board.

The consideration of the proposed bylaws was also adjourned.

It was resolved that the inspection of the burial ground at Staten Island be referred to the Superintendent.

The following weekly report was read and adopted:—

Number of alien passengers arrived to July 13, 120,447; number of alien passengers arrived since, to July 20, 6,363; to same date in 1870, 141,748.

Receipts and disbursements—Balance in bank, January 1, $1,302; aggregate receipts to July 20, $363,707. Total receipts, $365,009. Disbursements to date, $332,323; balance cash on hand, $32,685.

LEASING OF CAMDEN AND AMBOY RAILROAD—WILL IT BE EFFECTED?

On Tuesday next, July 25, the argument takes place before the Chancellor as to whether the injunction against the leasing of the road shall be made absolute. A fierce legal battle is anticipated.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

WALL STREET,
THURSDAY, July 20—6 P. M.

On 'Change to-day wheat was steady and rather more active. Cotton was firm and higher in sympathy with an improvement in the Liverpool market.

MONEY TWO TO THREE PER CENT.

Money was easy at two per cent on governments and at three per cent on stocks. Prime paper was steady and unchanged. Foreign exchange was heavy and actual business was on the basis of 110¼ for prime bankers' sixty-day sterling bills. The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows a gain of about £50,000 in bullion.

GOLD STEADY—112⅛ A 112⅜.

The gold market was intesely dull, and, after opening at 112½, stood unchanged until precisely noon, when a sale occurred at 112⅜, the occasion of the advance being the moderately large amount of gold bid for at the Sub-Treasury—viz., $2,100,000 at 112 a 112.53½. Subsequently, when the government awarded the entire million advertised to be sold instead of the fractional sum corresponding to the bond purchase on Wednesday, the price went off to 112⅜, but rallied to 112½, only to go off again to 112⅜, when it was discovered that foreign exchange was so heavy and that a large proportion of the specie engaged for shipment to-day had been withdrawn at the last moment, the amount sent being $40,000 only out of $115,000 put up this morning. The course of the market is shown in the table:—

10 A. M.	112½	3 P. M.	112½
12 M.	112⅜	4 P. M.	112⅜
12:30 P. M.	112⅜	5 P. M.	112⅜
1 P. M.	112½	5:30 P. M.	112¼ a 112⅜
2 P. M.	112½

In the gold loan market the rates were flat and 1 per cent for borrowing, with an exceptional transaction after the Clearing House at 3 per cent for carrying. The operations of the Gold Exchange Bank were as follows:—

Gold cleared	$19,189,000
Gold balances	1,449,972
Currency balances	1,607,862

The one million government gold was awarded at 112.53½ a 112.38.

GOVERNMENTS STEADY.

The government list was steady, with more activity. Strictly speaking the market was a little irregular, the five-twenties being strong and a shade better and the ten-forties and currency sixes a trifle lower, but the changes were not important. The following were the closing street prices this evening when the market had resumed its uniformity:—United States currency sixes, 113⅞ a 114⅛; do., 1881, registered, 115¼ a 115½; do. do., coupon, 115⅝ a 115⅝; do. five-twenties, registered, May and November, 113⅜ a 114; do. do., 1862, coupon, do., 114⅜ a 114½; do. do., 1864, do. do., 113⅜ a 114; do. do., 1865, do. do., 113⅞ a 114⅛; do. do., registered, January and July, 112⅝ a 113⅛; do. do., 1865, coupon, do., 112⅝ a 112⅞; do. do., 1867, do. do., 113 a 113⅛; do. do., 1868, do. do., 113⅛ a 113⅜; do. ten-forties, registered, 112⅜ a 113; do. do., coupon, 113 a 113⅛.

SOUTHERN SECURITIES HEAVY.

The Southern list was dull, the only activity noticeable during the day occurring in connection with a pressure to sell. The old North Carolinas went off to 44¾ and the special taxes to 20, thereby strengthening the new bonds to 27¼. Missouris and new South Carolinas were ¼ a ½ per cent lower. The Tennessees were steady and the Georgias firm.

THE NEW LOAN.

The subscriptions to the new loan to-day were $8,500.

STOCKS LOWER AND WEAK.

The depression on the Stock Exchange continued and prices again declined. Much discussion of the situation of the banks has been occasioned by the HERALD's analysis of the last statement of these institutions, showing an expansion of loans to the extraordinary sum of $301,000,000. An estimate based on a knowledge of affairs in Wall street fixes the portion of this amount loaned on stocks and other Wall street collaterals to be not less than $200,000,000, some say as much as $250,000,000. In other words, the brokers and cliques owe the banks not less than $200,000,000. One clique, whose members are leading officials in these banks, are holding between $50,000,000 and $75,000,000 of stocks. The cliques say the banks dare not call in their loans, because their failure would be the failure of the banks. It is curious to speculate what will be the upshot of this very remarkable situation of affairs when next fall the country banks begin to draw on the city banks for the $150,000,000 which the former have deposited here during the summer months, and which the latter have loaned in turn to these cliques and fools. The diffusion of the knowledge of these facts has rendered the public still more cautious about dealing in stocks, and has completely robbed the market of its strength, a heavy feeling pervading all such shares as are believed to be in the hands of the overloaded cliques. The decline to-day was most marked in Northwestern common, which fell to 65⅞; in Rock Island, which sold at 105⅞, and in Western Union, which touched 57.

COTTON STORAGE.

The Cotton Exchange Looking for Good Warehousing Quarters.

The members of the New York Cotton Exchange have been for a long time trying to rid themselves of the annoyance to which they are at present subject by reason of the scattered storage of cotton in this city, and the cost and trouble attendant thereon. As the business is now conducted cotton is stored in different places here and in Brooklyn independently, and in the purchase, sale and transfer great delay and loss of property by cotton thieves is occasioned. The Exchange have, therefore, sought to have the cotton stored as nearly as possible in one locality; but sufficient and suitable accommodations have not been found hitherto. Messrs. J. S. Stranahan and J. W. Croxon (his son-in-law), of Brooklyn, who own extensive stores and dock property in the Atlantic Basin, have made an offer to the Exchange to store and handle all their property, to receive and ship the same according to order, and thus to relieve the individual members not only of loss of time, but also of insurance and unnecessary trouble. The Exchange, at a recent meeting, appointed a committee of twenty members to examine the stores and dock property and to report their opinion to the Board. Yesterday Messrs Harrison (President of the New York Cotton Exchange), Whitlock, Baldwin, Miller and others took the steamboat May Clinton at the foot of Whitehall slip and sailed around the stores, inside and outside of the Atlantic Basin, and also went in and out through the stores, and examined the docks and piers, &c., and considered all the accommodations which now or at any future time can be provided.

A GREAT DEAL OF EXPENSE,

At present there are but five stores ready—the Clinton stores, 200x500 feet—and a dock and pier surface equal to 4,600 feet. But after the 1st of May next there will be a good deal more than this, for then May leases will expire. It is the intention of Messrs. Stranahan & Croxon, however, to build warehouses on two blocks, covering seven acres, which are now vacant, and the granite blocks are already on the ground for that purpose. Piers are also to be built fifty feet or more out into the bay, so that in winter or summer there shall be no delay to ships coming right up to the stores with their freight. If the committee should report favorably on the project and the Exchange should adopt their report the arrangement will take effect immediately. The stores will then be connected by telegraph with the Exchange, the sampling of cotton will be done before it goes into storage, and the great bulk of the business in cotton will then be transacted by telegraph.

Since the 1st of September, 1870, 1,038,000 bales of cotton have been received at this port, and it is estimated that not less than one hundred thousand dollars' worth is lost, stolen or destroyed under the present complicated and widely extended system under which it is bought, sold and stored. The committee will make their report in a few days, and the result will probably be known soon after.

FATAL AFFRAY IN A SALOON.

Coroner Young yesterday afternoon received information that Charles Sangwenther, a German, thirty-five years of age, late of 524 Fifth street, had died in Bellevue Hospital from the effects of violence inflicted upon him by a man named Kagel, keeping a lager beer saloon in Fifty-third street, near Tenth avenue. It is stated that on the 21st ult. deceased and Kagel had a quarrel in the saloon, when the latter seized a heavy stool and struck Sangwenther, who was in his employ, a heavy blow on the head, fracturing his skull. Kagel, who lives in Weehawken, was arrested at the time and liberated on bail by the magistrate before whom he was arraigned. The case will be investigated in a day or two, and in the meantime Kagel will be secured and locked up.

THE OFFICIAL MILITARY REPORTS.

The following are the official reports of the colonels of the Seventh, Ninth and Eighty-fourth regiments as to the part their commands took in the battle which occurred between the mob and the troops in Eighth avenue on the 12th inst. The report of the colonel of the Sixth is not given, it being of minor importance compared with the others. General Ward's report, which may be given at some future time, simply covers the ordinary operations of the various regiments which he visited during the day of the riot.

The Seventh Regiment Report.

HEADQUARTERS SEVENTH REGIMENT, N. G. S. N. Y., NEW YORK, July 13, 1871.

Lieutenant Colonel WILLIAM SEWARD, Jr., A. A. G. and Chief of Staff Third Brigade, N. G. S. N. Y.:—

COLONEL—I have the honor to submit the following report of the services of this regiment on the 12th inst. In compliance with division orders the regiment assembled, fully armed and equipped, at its armory, at seven A. M. The total number of officers and men reporting for duty was 606. At half-past ten A. M., in compliance with division orders, companies D and G, Captains Kipp and Ely, were detailed for duty at Police Headquarters, and reported to Major General Shaler at that place. At a quarter past eleven A. M., in compliance with division orders, companies B and A, Captains Van Norden and Allison, under the command of Major Smith, were detailed to proceed to avenue A, near Fourth street, to support Captain Mount, of the Seventeenth police precinct, against a threatened attack upon a place in that vicinity, where arms were said to be stored. This detachment returned to the armory at a quarter past twelve P. M., its services not being required in that locality, and its action was approved by the Major General. At half-past eleven in the forenoon the remaining six companies were ordered by the Major General to occupy the Bowery near Houston street, but the order was countermanded as they were about to leave the armory. At half-past one in the afternoon orders were received from Division Headquarters for this regiment to proceed via Eighth street and Greenwich avenue to the corner of Eighth avenue and Twenty-sixth street and report to General Varian at that place for service in protecting the procession of Orangemen. On the march companies D and G joined the regiment, having been relieved from duty at Police Headquarters for that purpose. In compliance with orders of General Varian, by him personally delivered, companies H, A, B, I and C, Lieutenant Colonel Haws commanding, were posted upon the sidewalk on the west side of Eighth avenue, the left of the line resting on Twenty-eighth street. The orders of General Varian were positive and explicit that these companies should

FIRE UPON ANY PERSONS

who should make any hostile demonstrations from the windows and house tops on the east side of the avenue, and I personally communicated said orders to the captains of the companies. The other five companies of this regiment (F, K, E, D and G) were placed, by order of General Varian, at the head of the procession, and were under my immediate command. The column moved down Eighth avenue, from Twenty-eighth street, and when its right reached Twenty-third street was halted by order of General Varian for the purpose of allowing time for the five companies of this regiment which had been stationed on the sidewalk near Twenty-eighth street to pass down Eighth avenue in column of fours to Twenty-third street and take their place on the extreme right of the column. Soon after the head of the column had halted at Twenty-third street sharp firing was heard in the vicinity of Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth streets, but not a single shot was fired by the five companies under my immediate command, and the steadiness and discipline exhibited by the officers and men deserve commendation. While the procession passed the five companies of this regiment which were posted on the west side of Eighth avenue, near Twenty-eighth street,

OCCASIONAL SHOTS

were fired and stones were thrown at the Orangemen and at the troops acting as their immediate guard. Whenever these missiles came from the upper windows or housetops of the buildings opposite the position of the five companies of this regiment shots were fired in return by individual members of said companies, under the immediate direction of their officers. At no period was any volley fired by any company of this regiment, and the individual shots fired were only at persons engaged in some hostile act. The column having halted as above stated, the five companies stationed on the sidewalk in Eighth avenue, near Twenty-eighth street, in compliance with orders previously received from General Varian, commenced moving in column of fours down the avenue, on the west side, to take position with the other five companies at the head of the column at Twenty-third street. The three companies on the right of the line were marching in column of fours, and the other two had wheeled into column, when the

VOLLEYS FIRED

by the other troops were heard. The immediate stampede of frightened rioters and others upon those companies marching in column of fours interrupted their march for a few moments, and while at a halt a few shots were fired by individual members of said companies at persons discovered in the act of firing pistols or throwing stones from the upper windows and housetops opposite. The five companies having arrived and taken their place at the head of the column at Twenty-third street, the procession moved forward, and passed through Twenty-third street, Fifth avenue, Fourteenth street and Fourth avenue without material interruption, and were dismissed about five o'clock P. M. near the armory of this regiment. The casualties in this regiment were not serious. Sergeant Behrinrers, of Company G, was struck upon the leg by a stone thrown by the mob. Private Townsend, of the same company, was slightly wounded in the neck by a musket ball, and a private in Company H (name not reported) received a slight scalp wound. This regiment remained at its armory during the night of the 12th and was dismissed by division orders at half-past eight A. M. on the 13th inst. I have received from the commandants of companies of this regiment full reports, giving the number of shots fired, the cause of such firing in each case, the direction of the same, and other important particulars. This report, so far as it relates to any matter which did not come under my own personal observation, is based upon the official reports of commandants of companies, all of which agree in every particular as to the facts herein stated.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully,

EMMONS CLARK,
Colonel commanding Seventh regiment N. G. S. N. Y.

The Ninth Regiment Report.

HEADQUARTERS NINTH REGIMENT, July 13, 1871.

To Lieutenant Colonel WILLIAM SEWARD, Jr., A. A. G. and Chief of Staff Third Brigade, N. G. S. N. Y.:—

This command assembled at the Armory in compliance with special order No. 16, First division headquarters, at seven o'clock A. M., July 12, 1871. At half-past one P. M. received orders to report to Brigadier General Varian, at the corner of Eighth avenue and Twenty-ninth street.

The regiment formed part of the guard of the Orange Lodge, and were fired upon by the mob assembled between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-seventh streets, on Eighth avenue. The fire was returned by two companies (F and K) and some few men of other companies. The following is a list of the casualties as far as known:—Killed—Sergeant Samuel Wyatt, of Company K, and private Henry C. Page, of Company K. Wounded—Colonel James Fisk, Jr., by spent ball in the ankle; Captain B. Spence, of Company K, struck in back with brickbat; Sergeant Bryan, of Company B, kicked in side by mob; privates Prior and McGowan, of Company G, in leg; private Burns, of Company E, stabbed in the back.

Two others are reported wounded, but as yet nothing definite is known.

This command returned to the Armory about half-past six P. M., remained on duty until nine o'clock this day.

Respectfully, Lieutenant Colonel BRAINE,
Commanding Ninth regiment.

The Eighty-fourth Regiment Report.

HEADQUARTERS EIGHTY-FOURTH REGIMENT, NEW YORK, July 12, 1871.

Major General SHALER:—

GENERAL—I have the honor to report that this regiment, in obedience to division orders, assembled at these headquarters this morning, at seven o'clock, and was immediately put under arms and each man furnished with forty rounds of ball cartridges. After which a guard was mounted to protect the approaches to the Armory and also to prevent the men from leaving the same.

About ten o'clock, in obedience to an order received from Colonel Conkling, commanding the Second brigade, I detailed Company I to protect the Armory of the Ninty-sixth regiment, which was at that time without a single guard, said company being relieved by an order from division headquarters at half-past eleven P. M.

At forty-five minutes past eleven A. M. this morning, this entire command, with the exception of the aforementioned company, pursuant to your orders, reported at Police Headquarters, from where, in conjunction with Police Captain Copeland and his men, proceeded to Hibernian Hall, and dispersed a large mob which was blocking up the streets in that locality.

From thence we proceeded to Twenty-ninth street and Eighth avenue, and reported to Brigadier General Varien, who assigned me a position as part of the guard for the protection of the Orange procession.

On reaching the neighborhood of Twenty-fourth street and Eighth avenue several shots were fired from the windows and housetops, injuring three members of this command. The firing was apparently returned by the Ninth, Twenty-second and Sixth regiments, which latter regiment was in our rear, and by the left wing of this command several persons were either killed or wounded by this discharge, and it was an utter impossibility to prevent it. I being at the right of the command used my utmost exertion to check the movement on the part of the troops. This occurred during a halt.

I have nothing further to report except that we paraded as far as Cooper Institute, the point at which the procession halted.

From thence, on receipt of orders to that effect, we proceeded to our armory, where a considerable number of the men are suffering from the fatigue incident to the heavy marching and intense heat.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

C. B. MITCHELL,
Lieutenant Colonel Commanding Eighty-fourth regiment, N. G., S. N. Y.

[SUPPLEMENTARY.]

Major General SHALER:—

GENERAL—I have the honor to report the following named members of this command who were wounded while on duty this date:—Captain J. Douglass, Company H, struck in the head and chest by some missile; William Jenne, private Company I, shot in the head seriously, but not fatally wounded; William Archer, private Company F, wounded in the wrist.

Respectfully submitted. C. B. MITCHELL,
Lieutenant Colonel Commanding Eighty-fourth regiment.

The National Guard Complimented.

The following is the Governor's general order issued to the National Guard congratulating them upon their conduct during the late riot:—

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS STATE OF NEW YORK, ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, ALBANY, July 15, 1871.

The Governor and Commander-in-Chief desires to express his thanks to Major General Alexander Shaler and the officers and soldiers of the National Guard under his command for their services during the riots in the city of New York on the 12th inst.

The promptitude with which the several organizations responded to the call for the severe duty of the day sustained the reputation earned by them for patriotic devotion to the cause of order and good government. They have demonstrated anew the value of a well regulated militia to the security of a free State.

By order of the Commander-in-Chief.
J. B. STONEHOUSE, Assistant Adjutant General.
Official—ALFRED H. TAYLOR, Major, &c.

HENRY WARD BEECHER ON THE RIOT.

The Orange Procession—Not the Battle of the Boyne but the Question of Liberty in New York.

[From the Christian Union, Henry Ward Beecher's organ, July 19.]

Mayor Hall, in his letter of 1870, republished as an explanation of the grounds of his action in 1871, says:—"It is the undoubted right of bodies of men, small or large, peaceably to assemble, and peaceably to march in procession, in furtherance of enterprises benevolent, religious, or political." This is sound doctrine. It is the true American doctrine. We are an assorted people, gathered from almost every nation under the sun. The Teutonic and the Celtic races have contributed the largest share to our population. Speaking their own languages, holding their own religions, retaining their national customs, they come to a nation which demands of no man that he shall change either his opinions, sentiments or tastes, but only that he shall so exercise his rights as not to limit or violate the rights of others.

THE RIGHTS OF ALL MUST BE RESPECTED.

This great liberty is not simply a privilege, it is an education. It requires every man to allow in others that liberty which he claims for himself. It thus imposes self-restraint. No man has a right to be provoked at any exercise of another's rights which does not restrict his own. The Roman Catholic may preach, publish, make public exhibitions; may controvert every Protestant notion or sympathy, and it is the business of every Protestant to mind his own business, and if he does not relish Catholic exhibitions to keep out of sight of them.

This doctrine is vital. There cannot be peace in a heterogeneous community on any other basis. Other men's liberty is not to be amenable to our dogmas, our tastes or our susceptibilities. Each sect, race or party is to determine its policy, religious belief, mode of worship and method of exhibition, and no one, whether magistrate or private citizen, has any right to judge for them, or to make his own feelings the test of others' rights.

THE TEST OF FREEDOM.

It is not possible that so large a liberty should be exercised without at times tending to stir up antagonistic feelings. At precisely such times is the principle of freedom brought to a test. The feeblest party in the city of New York, made up of the most unpopular men, and professing a cause abhorrent to every sentiment of the majority, ought to be protected even more sedulously than if they were a popular majority. Great principles are made for weak hours. It is in periods of temptation that laws vindicate their right to authority. The sacredness of rights is never evinced when the rich and strong are secure, but when the poor and the weak are protected.

MORAL RESTRICTION FOR THE FREE USE OF LIBERTY.

But ought parties or societies to exercise their rights without regard to the known prejudices or partialities of their fellow citizens? Is there no moral restriction for the free use of our liberties? Certainly. But no debate can be tolerated about the proper use of our liberties until those liberties are ascertained, acknowledged and protected.

THE ORANGE LODGES TO INSIST UPON THEIR RIGHTS.

In 1869 we should have dissuaded the Orangemen from any mode of celebration likely to stir up ill-feeling without any noble end in view. But in 1870, when the magistrates threatened to break up the procession, and still more emphatically when in 1871, the Superintendent of Police forbade the procession, it became the duty of Orange lodges to insist upon their rights. It was no longer a question of prudence or of peace. The blundering of the magistrates had turned it into a question of liberty which concerned every citizen in America, and the Orangemen were clothed with a great principle which hitherto their organization had lacked. Now they are bound to try this question of the freedom of the streets to all processions to the bitter end.

NECESSITY OF EDUCATING THE IGNORANT IN THE DOCTRINE OF CIVIL LIBERTY.

It is on this ground and as essential to the education of the ignorant in the doctrine of civil liberty, with all its self-restraints, that we declare our hope that the Orange societies of New York will arrange for another procession, not for anger's sake or spite, but to bring the public to a full understanding of the great principle of liberty, which must be learned thoroughly if this nation is to continue.

WHAT THE ORANGE SOCIETIES OUGHT TO DO.

The Orange societies should parade next year without a banner less or one inscription rubbed out. They should not do it on an implied promise that if protected for once they will then do it no more. They ought to move through the streets of New York until nobody thinks of molesting them. When that time arrives it will be a matter of no public importance whether the annual procession is kept up or not. But so long as a dog wags his tongue against an Orangemen's procession, or a bewildered magistrate forgets his duty toward them, the public good requires their continuance.

THE ORANGEMEN REPRESENT A PRINCIPLE.

If the Orangemen of New York fail next year to march through the streets of the city they will betray a sacred duty. By accident they have become the representatives of a principle which lies at the foundation of modern civilization. They do not just now represent a spent fact in history, but a living principle. It is not the battle of the Boyne in Ireland, but the question of liberty in New York.

In another article, under the head of "Mayor Hall's Examples," Mr. Beecher says:—

We are not anxious to convert this blunder of our city authorities to any political end. We do not regard them as sinners above all that dwell in New York. We consider them simply as men who do not understand the simplest elements of civil liberty, and who, partly from a desire to conciliate numerous votes, and partly from the bewilderment natural to those who are not adequate to great emergencies, have come near to sacrificing the public liberties in the interest of party politics.

FUNERAL OF WALTER PRIOR.

Another Member of the Ninth Buried at Woodlawn—Affecting Scenes at the Church and the Grave—Tearful and Floral Tributes to His Memory.

Yesterday the Ninth regiment were again called upon to render their last tribute of respect to the memory of one of the members of the regiment who died on Monday last of wounds received in the riot of Wednesday, the 12th. Although ordered to assemble at ten o'clock, yet it was after eleven before the regiment left the armory in West Twenty-sixth street to proceed to the Calvary Protestant Episcopal church, corner Twenty-first street and Fourth avenue, where the funeral service was to be held.

Walter A. Pryor, the deceased, was the son of Mrs. J. J. Pryor, the well known actress, and before the military reached the church many of the leading representatives of the dramatic profession were to be seen there.

At half-past ten o'clock A. M. the hearse arrived. The large crowd assembled was very orderly, and by their actions showed a hearty sympathy for the bereaved parents.

About eleven o'clock the police, numbering about 150 men, under Captain Copeland, one company (B) of the Seventy-ninth under Captain Dutch, representatives of the Twenty-second and Twelfth regiments and eight companies of fourteen files each, of the Ninth, under Lieutenant Colonel Braine proceeded to the church, the troops entering and quickly filling the pews not occupied by the relatives and friends of the family. In front of the chancel was an elegant white silk regimental flag and a fine collection of flowers, one wreath having young Pryor's likeness in the centre.

As soon as quiet was restored Chaplain Flagg met the body at the door and, walking up the aisle, read the burial service; then ascending to the desk he delivered a brief address, descanting upon the merits and good qualities of those who had fallen while upholding the law. Like Wyatt, Walter Prior had drawn his sword in at an early age, and when the war had ended he had returned to civil life, quietly laying aside his arms and resuming the garb of the civilian. To the friends and bereaved parents he extended all the consolation possible, bidding them look forward to a meeting with their darling one in another world.

A TOUCHING EPISODE.

During the chaplain's address a beautiful little child, of six or seven years, came up and laid a small basket of flowers on the coffin.

At the conclusion of the service the remains were exposed to view in the vestibule. The body was dressed in full uniform, one arm being thrown across the body and the other holding his military hat. On the inside of the casket lid was the plate, on which was inscribed

WALTER A. PRIOR,
died July 17, 1871,
aged 24 years.

When all had viewed the remains the coffin was placed in the hearse, and the funeral cortege started for the railroad depot, in Forty-second street, where a special train was in readiness to convey the party to Woodlawn Cemetery.

When the station was reached the column fell in and marched to the Ninth regiment plot, where, in addition to the two graves made upon Sunday last, a fresh one had been opened. Chaplain Flagg read the concluding portion of the burial service amid breathless silence from the large crowd standing there, the male part of this assembly, with bowed uncovered heads in the warm sun, testifying a mute respect. Three volleys were fired over the grave and the mourners returned to the city. The grief of the was of such a nature that the tears of sympathy and condolence coursed down the cheek of more than one spectator. In the church, the cars and at the grave Mrs. Prior was unable to control the manifestation of a very natural but overpowering grief.

Major George McLean, of the Old Guard, came up to the grave carrying a large basket of beautiful flowers, which were placed upon the newly-made graves of the three gallant representatives of our citizen soldiery, who met their death while obeying a call of duty.

REWARD OF MERIT.

Ten Thousand Dollars Awarded to the Injured Policemen by the Trustees of the Riot Relief Fund.

The police of this city seem to be particularly fortunate, so much so, indeed, that it is getting to be a common thing of late to hear persons of almost every position in life bewailing the ill luck which has thus far prevented their becoming a "knight of the locust." Ever since the day of the riot the entire force has been complimented by the press, by the Governor of the State, by the Mayor, by the Police Commissioners, and, in fact, by almost everybody in the State; and now, to cap the climax, the trustees of the Riot Relief Fund of 1863 have come forward and given each man on the force who was in any way injured by the rioters a handsome sum of ready money, which is certainly much more acceptable to the gallant "cops" than all the honeyed congratulatory addresses that could be written during the next ten years.

The following is the letter from the trustees, above alluded to, to the President of the Board of Police Commissioners:—

OFFICE OF THE RIOT RELIEF FUND, NEW YORK, July 20, 1871.

SIR—The warm commendations by all classes of our citizens and by the public press of the conduct of the police during the late riot and the official recognition of their resolute action by the Governor of the State and the Mayor of the city attest the great service they have again rendered in the defence of law and the maintenance of the public peace.

And while the undersigned most cordially unite in the praise so justly bestowed on the police, it is their further agreeable duty, as trustees of the Riot Relief Fund of 1863, to minister to such members of the force as have been injured in the late disturbance. They accordingly enclose a check for $10,000, and trust that you will cause to be distributed to the following wounded policemen the sums opposite their several names. The classification has been made with reference to rank and from authentic information in respect to the gravity of the injuries received:—

Captain Wilson, of Thirty-second precinct	$800
Captain Hedden, of Fifteenth precinct	800
Sergeant Whitcomb, of Nineteenth precinct	525
Sergeant McCullugh, of Twentieth precinct	525

Committee of the Riot Relief Fund.

To Hon. HENRY SMITH, President, &c.

THE RIOT RELIEF FUND ASSOCIATION.

On Monday evening a preliminary meeting was held at 609 Second avenue and an association formed as above, with Dr. J. C. Hannan chairman and C. W. McAuliffe secretary. These gentlemen have since chosen the following persons to receive subscriptions for the relief of the families of the killed and wounded on the 12th instant:—Messrs. D. Grenan, 829 Eighth avenue; M. Olwell, 643 Second avenue; J. J. Traynor, northeast corner of Second avenue and Twenty-second street; P. Ahearn, 330 avenue A; J. Springer, 242 East Tenth street; J. T. Dynan, 215 Fifth street; M. Carroll, 43 Catharine street; C. Horn, 53 Market street; Jeremiah Murphy, southwest corner of Cherry and Roosevelt streets, and George Horn, No. 2 Madison street. A public meeting will be held this evening, at eight o'clock, in Naylor's Hall, 295 Third avenue, near Twenty-third street, when this committee will be completed by selections from every ward in the city. Dr. Hannan will also receive subscriptions at 204 East Twenty-first street.

SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR THE WIDOW OF SERGEANT WYATT.

One dollar subscriptions will be received for the widow of Sergeant Wyatt, of the Ninth regiment, who so bravely met his death at the late riot, by E. Duncan Sniffin, No. 8 Pine street, in the basement.

CANADIAN OPINION OF THE NEW YORK RIOT.

The Toronto Orangemen Sustain Their New York Brethren—Complimentary Address to Governor Hoffman—A Hoffman Commemoration Hall to be Built in Toronto.

TORONTO, July 20, 1871.

At a special meeting of the Loyal Orange District Lodge of Toronto resolutions were passed expressing the great gratification felt by the Orangemen here, that in spite of the great danger which the Orangemen of New York had been exposed to they still remained faithful to the old cry of "no surrender." It was also resolved that a committee be appointed to draft an address to His Excellency the Governor of the State of New York, and another address to the brave Orangemen of the city of New York, expressive of the feelings of this meeting, as set forth in the preceding resolutions; and that when said address shall be prepared and engrossed they be presented by a deputation to be chosen by the said committee. It was further resolved that subscriptions be immediately entered into by all classes of people for the purpose of erecting in this city an Orange Hall, to be called "The Hoffman Commemoration Hall," in which the lodges of the city may meet, and annually commemorate the noble assertion of freedom on this Continent on the same memorable day in 1871 as it was secured in Europe in 1699 by our forefathers at the Boyne. Concerts, excursions, &c., will also be given to raise funds for the above objects.

WHAT COLONEL LAMBERT SAYS OF THE SEVENTH.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:—

SIR—There has been a great deal of talk about the Seventh regiment firing into the mob on the 12th inst. They had orders to do so from General Varian. What else could they do? It is all very well to say now that there was no use of firing: but it would have been better if the Seventh had given the mob a little more lead, and settled the whole matter on that day. As it is, there will, no doubt, be the same trouble next year.

I saw the Seventh on Eighth avenue, and they looked like what they are—"veterans," and mob-quieters in every sense of the word. They did their duty nobly, and New York city ought to be more proud of her gallant Seventh than ever.

Colonel MORTON LAMBERT,
of the Army of the Potomac.

Marine Disasters.

SHIP EUTERPE, Captain George W Leach, bound from Callao to Falmouth, has been abandoned at sea. The following communication from the coast guard at the bar of the Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil, dated June 14, gives the particulars:—"I have to inform you that to-day, at 8 AM, there entered the bar the longboat of the American ship Euterpe, which ship left Callao on the 25th of April, bound for Falmouth, but on the 2d of June began to make water, and on the 4th Captain Leach saw himself forced to abandon her, in lat 37 S, lon 46 W. He embarked in the longboat with 16 persons besides himself, and the second mate and 8 more of the crew took another boat, which, however, the captain lost sight of two days afterwards. Yesterday afternoon the longboat approached the coast and saw two horsemen on the beach. One of the seamen, then, by consent of the captain, took to the water and swam ashore, when he was taken up behind one of the horsemen. The object of his going was to ascertain where the boat was, as for 6 days no observations could be taken to determine their position. However, the captain does not know whither the said sailor went, the boat not being able to approach the land because of the heavy surf on the coast, but he supposes he must already be at Rio Grande. Night coming on they kept along the coast, and to-day had the good fortune to arrive here." The other boat had not been heard of up to the 19th of June. (The E was built at Rockland, Me, in 1854, was 1509 tons register, rated A1½, and was owned in New York.)

BARK RHEA SYLVIA (Br), Coffill, which sailed from Charleston 16th inst for London, got ashore on the North breaker of the bar while in tow of a steamer, but came off next morning and returned to an anchor in the roads.

BARK HIGHLAND MARY (Br), Churchill, from London for Boston, which put into Dublin March 17 in distress, repaired and sailed 3d inst to resume her voyage.

BARK EVENING STAR (Br), Ryder, from Savannah for Liverpool, which put into Bermuda in distress, has been abandoned, and was sold by auction 6th inst.

BARK LOUISA (Br), Lansdowne, from Singapore April 10 (Anjier May 1) for Boston, is reported by cable to have put into Algoa Bay — ult, leaky.

SCHR ANN S SALTER (before reported sunk), Chase, of and for New Bedford, from Philadelphia, with coal, consigned to B F Hathaway, sprung a leak at 4:30 PM Monday, off Long Island, and sunk at 10:05 same night. The crew took to the boat and went on board schr L A Rose, of Egg Harbor, which took them to Vineyard Haven, and they arrived at New Bedford on Wednesday morning, with their boat, on the Monohassett. She had on board 167 tons coal, and she sunk 15 miles SE Fire Island, in 22 fathoms water. She was 118 tons, was owned by Geo S Homer and others, and is but partially insured.

SCHR A M EDWARDS (of Philadelphia), Hinson, from Baltimore for Washington, while sailing out of the river near the Lazaretto, 19th inst, a collied with the steamer Baltimore, bound to Bremen. The schooner received considerable damage, being struck on the port quarter, breaking rail, tearing mainsail, maintopsail and breaking main gaff and main boom and doing other injury. The schooner put back for repairs. Capt Hinson was also considerably bruised by the collision. The Baltimore proceeded on her voyage.

SCHR CHAS F BEEBE—Schr Benjamin Strong, Hoyt, from Bangor for Norwalk, which arrived at Newport 18th inst, reports picked up, off Gay Head, at 5 AM same date, eight men in an open boat, crew of the fishing schooner Chas F Beebe (of New London), Smith, from Seal Island for New York, run down night of 17th by schr S B Wheeler, and sunk immediately. The S B Wheeler lost jibboom and headgear, and anchored.

SCHR OSCAR C ACKEN, Meade, from Westport for New York, was run into night of 18th inst, while passing through Hell Gate, by steamer Elm City, from New York for New Haven, and sunk in 12 fathoms water, off Nigger Point; her mastheads are just out of water.

SCHR DAVID G FLOYD, Clifford, from Philadelphia for Fall River, which arrived at Newport night of 18th inst, was struck by lightning night of 16th, off Barnegat, which shivered her foremast.

SCHR C F YOUNG reports night of 11th, while in Delaware Bay, was struck by lightning, damaging foretopmast, foremast and the forward house.

SCHR CLARA JENKINS (Br), from Machias for Miragoane, before reported condemned at Bermuda, has been sold at auction; the hull brought $100.

BARGE J W ANDREWS, Captain James Smith, with a cargo consisting of 240 tons of coal, from Philadelphia, consigned to Winton & Co, of this city, sunk off Black Rock on the morning of the 19th inst, about 9 o'clock. This barge, with two others, was coming to Bridgeport in tow of one of the tugs of the Game Cock line. The Andrews, being on the windward side, rolled heavily, and when about a mile outside of the Cowes it got into the trough of the sea and rolled partly under the middle barge. In coming up out of that position the side of the Andrews was stove in and she sunk in about fifteen minutes. She now lies in eighteen feet of water and will probably prove a total loss. The cargo was fully insured.
